Six Thousand See Ceremonies At Pennsylvania Week Train

Notables Share Program Here On Thursday

Awarding "Ambassador Plaque" To Mrs. Spencer Tracy Features Program

GOVERNOR DUFF PRESENTS AWARD

New Castle honored one of her own Thursday, October 20. With an estimated 6,000 people voicing their approval, Louise Treadwell Tracy, former New Castle woman, was awarded the Pennsylvania Ambassador plaque, with Governor James H. Duff making the presentation. It was the high light of Pennsylvania Week in New Castle.

The presentation was made at the Pennsylvania train exercises at the west side station of the Pennsylvania Railroad shortly before 2:30 Thursday afternoon.

Colorful Affair

This was the second time in two years a former New Castle resident has been thus honored but this year there was color and excitement that an indoor affair cannot hope to achieve.

The Pennsylvania train was en route from Erie to Pittsburgh and had made stops at Meadville and Sharon on its way down. Included in the train were modern examples of railroad car building. The platform used was a new flat car that had been fitted up as an outdoor auditorium with a canopy over it. As the train pulled into the West Side Station the New Castle senior high school band gave it a musical entrance. On the mobile platform were Governor Duff, Secretary of Commerce Theodore Roosevelt 3rd, Hedda Hopper, movie columnist, John Charles Thomas, noted baritone, "Miss Pennsylvania", the Brownlee Sisters, Ed Shaughency, radio figure; city, county and Ellwood City officials, newspapermen, cameramen and officials of other counties.

Brownlee Sisters

The train had hardly stopped before the four Brownlee Sisters, Frances, Phyllis, Doris and Delores opened the forty-minute program with a musical greeting and Emcee Ed Shaughency took over.

Major John F. Haven welcomed the crowd in a brief address. Said he "I never was prouder of New Castle in my life. This magnificent crowd is a testimonial to New Castle's interest in Pennsylvania Week and in the gracious lady who is to be honored. It is a privilege to be the mayor of such a city."

P. H. McCance, chairman of Pennsylvania Week, who is president of the Duquesne Light Company spoke briefly and Ed Shaughency introduced Marlene Carozzo, of Kennett Square. As he presented her, Shaughency had a New Castle youngster, Lowell Lenhart, brought to the platform. Young Mister Lenhart had the privilege of being kissed by Miss Pennsylvania or shall we say Mister Pennsylvania?

Only a few of the "Pennsylvania Ambassadors" named this year had the distinction of receiving the award from Governor James H. Duff. Here he is shown presenting Mrs. Spencer Tracy the hand-made aluminum plaque that makes her an ambassador.

County Delegation On Pennsylvania Week Train Thursday

Went To Meadville To Join Group Aboard Train In State Tour

Lawrence county sent a sizeable delegation to Meadville Thursday morning to meet the Pennsylvania Train.

"Why shouldn't we have a Pennsylvania Week?" he queried as he left in his seat.

Have Great State

"We have a great state. Name me another state in the union that has what we have. Industry, agriculture, coal mines, ceramic products, fruit, cattle, scenery and a state that lives within its income."

"We hear a lot of talk about industries going south from northern states because of labor or tax advantages. Pennsylvania has had little of that. As a matter of fact we now have industries coming into Pennsylvania because of our many advantages."

"Just the other night I attended

Nations Must Also Help Themselves

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Secretary of State Acheson has warned that American aid can only help nations which help themselves.

Acheson, speaking at the fifth annual Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner in New York last night, declared:

"We cannot direct or control; we cannot make a world, as God did out of chaos. There are some, apparently, who think we should do this, and in six days."

INCREASED ACTIVITY ON YUGOSLAV BORDER

VIENNA, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Refugees arriving in Vienna from Hungary confirmed today reports of increased military activity in the area of Hungary's border with Yugoslavia.

The refugees reported that Soviet troops wearing Hungarian uniforms have started training with Hungarian army units. They said that frontier guards now possibly number between seven and eight divisions.

No Drastic U. N. Counteraction Following Election Of Yugoslavia

By PIERRE J. HUSS

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Oct. 21.—United Nations circles forecast today that Yugoslavia's election to the security council will strengthen the independence of the small powers.

An atmosphere of guarded relief hung over the U. N. after Russia swallowed its bitterest defeat yet without taking drastic counter-action.

While Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky angrily attacked the 39 nations who put Marshall

New 'Formula' In Steel Strike Gives Some Hope

Reports Of Face-Saving Formula By Mediators Casts Faint Ray Of Hope

COAL PICTURE IS LESS PROMISING

By GERALD GREEN
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Reports that a face-saving formula has been developed by federal mediators cast a faint ray of hope today over the costly nation-wide steel strike.

With more and more steel-dependent industries showing the effects of the crippling walkout, Federal Mediator Cyrus S. Ching said yesterday that the situation was "certainly not hopeless."

It was understood that Ching had reference to a new compromise plan for resolving the pension and insurance dispute between the nation's steel producers and the striking CIO-United Steelworkers. Details of the plan, it was said, are being kept secret so as not to prejudice future negotiations.

Less Promising

In the other major national strike-coal—the picture was far less promising. Industry spokesmen said that the current meetings between soft coal operators and the John L. Lewis United

Chest Fund Total Is $46,674 Today

New Castle Community Chest workers today reported a total of $46,674 contributed and pledged in the 1949 campaign for $127,350.

More than 40 division leaders, captains, and workers attended the second report meeting of the drive at The Castleton.

At the first report last Monday, a total of $20,677 was announced as having been contributed.

Today's meeting found the greatest increase coming from industry and commercial groups. The former group, headed by A. K. Schmidt, has reported $19,288 or 47 percent of its quota, $41,-

000. Commercial division reported through its head, Joe Green, a total of $6,817.13. This group did not report at the first meeting.

J. Lester Matthews, chest chairman, presided at today's meeting. He called on co-chairman Rev. Fr. Ralph E. Hovenecamp to conduct the reporting. Rev. Hovenecamp also added brief remarks in which he told the workers present that the job could be done and that the report today indicated more of the same kind of hard work would bring the drive to a successful conclusion. The campaign is scheduled to end in Victory Dinner November 1.

The third report of progress will be next Thursday, October 27, at The Castleton.

Ten were sentenced to five years in prison.

The eleventh, Robert Thompson was given a three-year term, apparently because of his outstanding war record.

A ten-year sentence for all eleven has been urged on Federal Judge Harold R. Medina by U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGahey.

McGahey based his plea principally on a pre-sentencing statement by defendant Eugene Dennis pleading that "we will carry on our work in the best interest of our party."

Those Sentenced

Beside Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party, those sentenced to five years in jail are:

Benjamin J. Davis, New York city councilman; John Gates, editor of the "Daily Worker"; Jack Stachel, national educational director of the party; Carl Winter, Michigan state chairman; Guy Hall, Ohio state chairman; Henry Winslow, New York organizational secretary; John B. Williamson, labor secretary; Gilbert Green, Illinois state chairman; Irving Potash of New York.

All took the judge's sentence placidly. A few smiled.

They had had their last say and there was no further talking.

The day's session stretched into more than three hours, however, before the decision was announced.

Tax Boosting Plans Of Truman Opposed

Johnson Strikes Back At Critics On Unification

Says National Defense To Be Run In Interests Of American People

DEFENDS POLICIES ASSAILED BY NAVY

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Defense Secretary John Johnson today told Congress that the nation's military forces must at "all times" be under civilian control.

At the present level of corporation profits, such an increase would bring in about three billion dollars—only half enough to meet an expected six billion dollar deficit.

An informed source predicted that legislation anticipated in January will include a proposal for boosting corporation taxes from the present 38 percent to 50 percent.

At the present level of corporation profits, such an increase would bring in about three billion dollars—only half enough to meet an expected six billion dollar deficit.

Several legislators privately expressed doubt whether, as a matter of practical politics, congress would boost individual income taxes in a campaign year.

It was recalled that when the 80th congress passed the measure which Mr. Truman labeled a "rich man's tax reduction," 30 senators

Coal Operators Quit Conference

Break Off Negotiations With United Miners At White Sulphur Springs

(BULLETIN)

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Oct. 21.—(INS)—Soft coal operators today broke off negotiations with the United Mine Workers aimed at ending the five-week coal strike.

All five, it is reported, were members of the fraud investigating unit of the Third Internal Revenue district which takes in probably the richest tax district in the world. It includes Wall street and most of the New York financial area.

James W. Johnson, collector of the district, refused to talk about the case at all, saying it wouldn't be "proper" for him to do so. U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGahey, presumably in charge of the investigation, also declined to say

Marriage Expert Swing For Divorce

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Marriage expert Dr. Frederick H. Lund, professor of psychology at Temple University, is suing his wife for a divorce.

Mrs. Lund, also well-known as a counselor on youth problems, was once a student in her husband's class.

He said further talks were useless and pointed out that John L. Lewis, leader of the striking miners, has attended the conference only about two hours in the past two weeks.

Three others were rescued yesterday. They said the Indians in the ravaged country have no food and clothes. Some 4,000 persons were killed, 100,000 left homeless and about $50,000,000 in damages done by torrential rains and floods.

Arrangements For Program Here Were Well Made

Pennsylvania Train' Program In City Carried Out In Excellent Manner

Usually there is some slight hitch in arrangements for a party as elaborate as the Pennsylvania Train ceremonies at the West Side Station on Thursday.

But on Thursday there wasn't a hitch. Everything moved on schedule, there were no accidents and the weather was a perfect example of "Golden October".

From the railroad side, Marion Street, superintendent had left nothing undone. The connections for the loud speakers were exactly where they should be, the area in which the crowd of about 6000 stood was cleared of anything that might cause accidents, and Pennsylvania police and employees were scattered through the crowd to see that nothing happened.

In order that the senior high school band would not be hemmed in by the crowd Mr. Street had an area roped off, permitting the band to play unimpeded.

City police also did an outstanding job. At the station there was a group of them stationed along the track to see that no one was hurt.

Getting out of the railroad area after the train left was like leaving a world's series. Again the police were stationed at strategic points to see that traffic was directed properly.

The whole affair was one of those examples of precision and safety that are sought for but not always reached.

efficacy defense equipment so that the people get 100 cents worth of defense for every dollar expended."

Johnson took the witness stand to defend his policies against Navy criticism after Gen. George C. Marshall told the committee that military unity is essential for adjustment to peacetime defense.

Johnson assured the committee that the United States "will have a strong Army, a strong Navy, and a strong Air Force."

He emphasized that it was his responsibility to see that all "our armed forces" are in a state of fighting readiness" and he said he was determined to see that this was done to the best of his ability.

Congress Misinformed

Johnson charged that Navy critics of his unification policies have "misinformed" Congress about the nation's state of preparedness and have built a "straw man" which would be "amusing, if it were not so tragic."

The secretary struck back vigorously in testimony before the House Armed Services Committee at admirals who contended that the defense plans are based on "atomic blitz" strategy.

Johnson denied that "we expect to win a war by push-button tactics." He also denied the Navy's charge that it is "not accepted in full partnership in the national defense structure."

The cabinet member revealed officially for the first time that the military budget calling for the next fiscal year has been set at $13 billion dollars, two and one-half billion less than the amount voted by Congress this year.

LARGE CORN CROP

Washington—The U.S. produced more than 3,500,000,000 bushels of corn in 1948, about one billion more than were produced a decade ago, in 1938.

Proud Of Pennsylvania

"I'm proud of Pennsylvania. Proud of her traditions and her achievements, proud of her citizens with their know how and ambition."

"Our tax rate is low compared to such states as New York and California. Our people believe in getting their money's worth and that's what we are trying to do. Sure, we have a large budget but we have a large state, an empire in ourselves."

"I am delighted with the response of our people to Pennsylvania Week."

"We are moving forward. The Pittsburgh area is undergoing some remarkable improvements, so are other portions of the state."

"This is the week we are telling the world of our advantages. We have something of which we can be proud. If we continue to work together in Pennsylvania we will have an even greater state."

"Somehow you get the idea that the governor means what he says."

RUSSIA DELAYS COUNTER MOVE

Tito's representative on the Congress, he made no move to leave the U. N. as had been vaguely threatened.

Aid To Tito

The U. N. action was interpreted as not only strengthening Tito's hand—and thus anti-Kremlin sentiment in other Soviet satellites—but also as encouraging small states to vote with complete independence on major issues before the U. N.

Top U. N. delegates also pointed out that the swift pace of the election served as striking notice to Russia that attempts to "bowhead" the assembly or to veto its decisions merely increase the assembly's determination to slap down such tactics.

In the opinion of western leaders, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's declaration that Yugoslavia's presence in the 1950 Security Council will not be recognized by Russia in all likelihood will be demonstrated next January at Lake Success.

At that time, Soviet delegate Jacob A. Malik on instructions from his government probably will denounce the Yugoslav delegation at the council table and declare that Russia cannot count as valid any vote or pronouncement made by him.

Democrats joined 48 Republicans to carry the measure 78 to 11. The 11 opponents all were Democrats.

For Tax Reduction

Democrats for tax reduction were determined then that 27 of them, including George and present majority leader Sen. Lucas (D) Ill., later joined 50 Republicans to override the president's veto of the bill.

Caught in a squeeze between the necessity of either finding new revenue or attacking the deficit by curtailing government spending, congress may embark on a new and more determined drive for economy.

George favors a cut-back in spending as the cure. He said:

"It would be easily possible to reduce expenditures to a point where they will meet government income without material changes in the tax structure."

The finance chairman predicted that despite the record of the first session the 81st congress will act to cut expenditures in the second session.

COKE CONVERSION

OSLO—(INS)—The Norwegian government and the Norsk Hydro chemical firm report considerable progress in experiments with an electrical process for converting Spitzbergen coal into high quality coke suitable for pig iron production. The project was initiated during the war.

Rev. W. W. Willis, her former pastor, officiated at further services Thursday at 2 p.m. from Rocky Springs United Presbyterian church.

Leland and John Hollinger, John Swick, Oliver Boggs, Dale McHattie and Clyde Temple served as pallbearers.

Burial took place in Rocky Springs church cemetery, New Galilee.

ROTARY ANNS HAVE DELIGHTFUL PARTY

A tearoom in New Wilmington was the scene of the delightful party held by the members of the Rotary Anns on Thursday. The delicious luncheon was served at attractively appointed tables. Halloween favors were used and fall flowers of various shades were centerpieces.

Business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Howard Reynolds. Plans were made for a party in December. The program for that meeting is in charge of the Mesdames Ralph Markley, Edwin Ulrich, Ellwood Gilbert and George Marquis.

Miss Beverly Mikal was guest speaker for the occasion. She told of her summer trip to Europe and the conditions existing there. While in Germany, she attended the International Youth Conference.

The door prize of the day was won by Mrs. David Suoso.

Hostesses for the November luncheon meeting will be the Mesdames Lewis Dayton, chairlady, Robert Eckles, Harry Elder, Edwin Feass, Humbert Fenati, Thomas Foley, Orville Flora, Arthur B. Foster, R. F. Galbreath, George Getty, Ellwood Gilbert, Harold Hadself, Edward Hains, William Haines, Asa Hoffmaster, Howard Humphry, Miles Kennedy and Mrs. Harries.

T.E.D. CLUB ENJOYS CHICKEN DINNER

Misses Mary and Rose Shaffer were pleasing hostesses when members of the T.E.D. club met at their home, 339 Berger place Thursday evening.

A delicious fried chicken dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by candlelight at a beautifully appointed table centered with a bouquet of pink and white baby mums. Mrs. Fred Brundert, Jr., assisted the hostesses in serving.

Cards featured the amusement period with honors going to Mrs. Edwin Hoyland, Mrs. Charles Key and Mrs. Clare Martin.

Mrs. Francis Rogan, 19 Greenwood avenue, will receive club members into her home at the next meeting on November 17.

SAVOIA AUXILIARY PARTY OCTOBER 23

Officers of the Savoia Auxiliary met Thursday evening and final plans for a halloween party were made for Sunday, October 23.

It will be held at the King Humbert hall and will be a masquerade at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Angeline Frasso is chairman, to be assisted by the officers.

Chrysolute Club

Chrysolute club members met Wednesday evening in the Unione Calabro club rooms, Mrs. John De Santis opening the meeting with a report on "pal night."

Plans were made for a Christmas party with husbands to attend as guests. The birthday of Mrs. James Fuleno was honored and she received a gift.

Card prizes were captured by Mrs. Anthony Croach, Mrs. John De Santis, Mrs. Domenick Retort, and Mrs. Francis DePolis.

Special guests attending were Mrs. Patsy Lombardo and Mrs. Joseph Naples. Later the hostess, Mrs. John Fuleno served a dainty lunch with halloween colors predominating.

November 2, is the next meeting with Mrs. Domenick Retort, as hostess.

DR. J. B. REID IS FETED AT DINNER

Dr. Jennings B. Reid, new minister of Highland United Presbyterian church, was honored Thursday evening, when elders of the congregation and their wives entertained at dinner in a New Wilmington tea room.

Yellow mums decorated the U-shaped table, where places were arranged for 26 guests. Each place was marked with a clever card, decorated with a real baby mum. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elliott were special guests.

After enjoying a tasty dinner the women had a social period while their husbands had a business session. Dr. Reid will be installed as pastor at Highland church on Thursday evening, October 27 while a reception will be given in his honor on Tuesday evening, November 1.

Mrs. E. F. Henderson, Mrs. Roy Conway and Mrs. Wilbur E. Flannery composed the committee for the delightful function.

Ladies of Kiwanis will hold their next meeting on Nov. 16 at The Castleton.

CONNIE FERRIGNO SHOWER HONOREE

A miscellaneous shower was held recently at the home of Miss Toni Damiano, Neal street, in honor of the approaching marriage of Miss Connie Ferrigno.

Games were the entertaining feature of the evening with prizes going to Lucy Biddle, Rose Mitolo and Rachel Smith. Lucy Biddle also won the door prize. A mock wedding was presented, participants being Lucy Mitolo, Rose Russo, Lucy Biddle and Kate Ceselli.

Later, a buffet lunch was served by the hostess aided by Marie Colangelo, Lucy Mitolo and Kate Ceselli.

Miss Ferrigno will be married on October 29 to Michael Nuzzo at St. Vitus church at 8 a.m.

The wedding party will include Miss Toni Damiano as maid of honor; bridesmaid, Rachel Smith; best man, Bud Mursatori and usher, Alber Smith. The wedding will be "open church."

Fidelity Companions

Mrs. James Costello, of Scott street, entertained the Fidelity Companions club, Thursday evening. Tables of 500 were in play, the card trophies going to Mrs. Marian DeAugustine and Mrs. Sam Ascione.

Tasty refreshments were later served, Mrs. Michael Phillips and Mrs. Sam Ascione aiding the hostess. Special guest was the hostess' daughter, Catherine Costello.

November 3, is the meeting with Mrs. Carmen Picaro, DuShane street.

Cavalier Club

Mrs. Thomas Beatrice of Pennsylvania avenue opened her home to the Cavalier club members on Thursday evening. She received a hostess gift.

Plans were made for a halloween party-meeting on October 29, at the home of Mrs. Arson Aromando, East Reynolds street. Future plans for a November anniversary were made.

Special guest was Mrs. Rose Sniezek and she received a token. Later the guest aided the hostess in serving lunch. Games and cards closed the meeting.

Hasta La Vista Club

A masquerade halloween party was held at Hasta La Vista club Thursday evening, with Mrs. Victor Macarella, Pennsylvania avenue.

Plans were made for a Christmas party with husbands to attend as guests. The birthday of Mrs. James Fuleno was honored and she received a gift.

Card prizes were captured by Mrs. Patsy Lombardo and Mrs. Joseph Naples. Later the hostess, Mrs. John Fuleno served a dainty lunch with halloween colors predominating.

November 2, is the next meeting with Mrs. Domenick Retort, as hostess.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The apparent necessity for international bargaining on the old-fashioned horse-trade basis even in this era of open debate and above-the-table dealings became evident today.

Two major issues formed the crux of the situation.

One was the Communist sweep in China which has relegated Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist regime to the remote fastnesses of Chungking in the Yangtze river gorges.

The other was Yugoslavia's bid for a seat on the United Nations Security Council bitterly opposed by Soviet Russia, obviously because of the personal feud between Marshal Tito and his one-time mentor, Marshal Stalin.

Issues Dodged

Many of the basic issues in these two developments were dodged with something close to artistry when Soviet Foreign Minister Vlasov held his first news interview in two hours and invited reporters to ask any questions they wished.

These they did and came away just as perplexed as when they entered.

It is obvious, however, that this perplexity at the present moment is not a journalistic monopoly. Vlasov was asked how Soviet Russia reconciled its willingness to keep Nationalist China as a permanent member of the United Nations Security Council while it has recognized Mao Tse-Tung's Communist regime.

His guarded reply was that Russia had not acted "too badly" with regard to the China situation and he said that the future would prove that to be the case.

Just exactly what he means is obscure. But it is apparent that the British government is giving to Russia's role in the Chinese Communists' victories for it seems likely that Downing street soon will extend recognition to Peking, as the Communists call their capital.

This may be on what has been termed a "day to day" basis. That means it will apply only as long as the Communists behave themselves.

The United States government is reported to have taken formal steps to determine just what Britain's attitude is going to be.

It is a painful situation for Prime Minister Clement Attlee. For if he recognizes the Communists, he will have to admit publicly or tacitly that British trade and economic factors still must have a place in international policies no matter what may be said in oratorical form.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HOW DOES TOT BEHAVE IN SCHOOL?

Barring a few exceptions the disobedient child at school got that way at home. How much easier for teachers, how much better teaching they could do, and how much better for the children themselves if they have been reasonably well disciplined at home!

Though I have advised parents against punishing the child at home for specific bad behavior at school, in case the teacher has been assured his home is back of her, I do entreat parents to train the youngster at home to respect their reasonable authority, with the hope that he will thus learn to respect all constituted authority including the teacher's.

Will Not Obey

A mother writes of a seven-year-old son whose teacher reports to her that he will not obey in school, that he will get up and walk around when he feels like it. She says he learns rapidly, gets his work done far before the others do and then starts walking around and talking loudly to whomever will listen; that at a play school earlier he also would not obey and was the cause of much trouble.

"My second problem," she says, "is that no matter whose house he goes to play in he isn't there long until I get a complaint from the mother that he is destructive of property or mistreats the smaller children. I know these complaints are true for I have watched him without his knowing I've been checking."

"My third problem is that he will be doing something which he knows is forbidden, then ask permission to do it, and when told 'No' he will say it's already done."

Destroying Property

In substance here is how I answered this mother. I'm amazed that you have seen this lad destroying property and mistreating smaller children without even letting him know you saw him. Why do you expect the busy teacher to give him the training in good discipline at school, which your mother have neglected so supinely? Why not utilize the sense you were born with and civilize your son at home?

I agree with the father on a few things this lad must not do, which you can check personally and that this lad shall, for each offense, sit in a chair without amusement where you can see him for exactly 40 minutes. Be dependable. Padle or switch him only if he should leave the chair too soon. When he comes to associate willful disobedience with strong discomfort, he may be ready to profit from isolation or deprivation of a privilege, for punishment.

To help him utilize his superior mentality by stimulating him to read more and create for fun with his hands, hoping his teacher will do likewise. Attract some playmates of his age to your home where you can supervise him.

Let younger mothers take warning and begin to teach obedience early and constantly in a family atmosphere of love and companionship after the advice I have been giving in this column and have summarized in my bulletins, "How To Teach Tot Meaning of No," and "Stubbornness," (to be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.) Roosevelt's out and show them the rest of our town.

Government parity prices have come to the support of peanuts. Save the shells!

Norway Calm Over A-Bomb Report

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 21.—Here in the only Atlantic Pact nation that borders on the Soviet Union the people have good nerves. The news Russians had set off an atomic explosion produced not a ripple in the Norwegian calm.

It is not alone good nerves but also a realistic understanding of what the Atlantic Pact means for Norway. If Russia should start aggressive action against this northern bastion, the United States would be compelled to come to Norway's defense and another world war would be on.

The Norwegians know, too, that this would not be because Americans favor blue-eyed blondes nor, even for that matter, because of the formal commitments spelled out in the pact. With Russia on the Atlantic ocean in possession of Norway's deep fjords, which could conceal all the Soviet's new-type submarines, the balance of power would be drastically altered.

Taking Big Risk

In signing up with the Atlantic alliance, the Norwegians were taking a big risk and they knew it. There were dire forebodings of immediate reprisals by the great power that has openly hankered for Spitzbergen in the far north.

But Russia has made no overt moves since Norway and Denmark decided to enter the pact. Foreign Minister Halvard Lange put spe-

One Man's Opinion

Gov. Bowles wants a steel mill for Connecticut and it shouldn't be hard to get one . . . there are dozens not in use right now.

Seems only yesterday phrenic Phil was demanding more steel mills and Harry was promising the government would build 10 of them . . . ah those dear delightful campaign days.

Anyway opportunity never was greater in America . . . with every worker now guaranteed 75 cents an hour, every worker also is guaranteed the pleasure of paying an income tax.

What a thrill that will be to people who never have been able to make quite enough for the treasury to cut into.

The 75 cent figure was no accident by the way . . . it was set so that people who work 40 hours can make four dollars more than the people who aren't working at all.

The next fight will be to make temporary compensation a little more attractive before everybody ruins it by going to work.

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

The peoples of New Castle and Lawrence County seemed to enjoy the Pennsylvania Week celebration of Thursday . . . industry open houses were attended by many, many hundreds . . . Over six thousand people were on hand when the Special Pennsylvania Week Train from Meadville to New Castle . . . And just as Theodore Roosevelt III said . . . the number of people seeing the train in New Castle was the largest number thus far . . . and the train has been on the road since Monday of this week . . . That is a compliment to the people of this fine community . . . We firmly believe that the people here are proud of their community and proud of the work they have accomplished in the past 12 years.

We were extremely proud of the High School Band . . . upon first seeing them from the train platform . . . a big lump came in my throat. The sun was shining on their bright red uniforms . . . we were standing in good upright attention . . . and with the many brightly clothed people surrounding them . . . the band reminded us of a great big diamond in a beautiful platinum setting.

The various performers on the special train came in at once that they were about to face a happy group of people . . . Miss Heddie Hopper and John Charles Thomas both of many stage appearances said that they really enjoyed the stop in New Castle . . . and it wasn't an asked for statement . . . They really did enjoy talking and singing to you people.

And remember folks, if you enjoyed the show from the platform of the Pennsylvania Week Train you can take part of the credit yourselves . . . you made the people aboard want to please you. Governor Duff was so excited and pleased that he could hardly control himself from going out into the crowd . . . And say . . . did we hear the girls swoon when Teddy Roosevelt came to the mike? A really nice fellow ladies and gentlemen but you should meet his wife. Maybe we should have a party . . . we people of New Castle, and invite the to me.

Government parity prices have come to the support of peanuts. Save the shells!

If you can remember back when the popular baseball pitcher wore a handlebar moustache then you really are antiquated.

Two-Handed Politics

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—It now appears that Mr. Truman, who is ambidextrous, did better than is generally realized last week in the case of the Leland Olds rejection. On the one hand Mr. Truman lost, but on the other hand he won.

He lost rather badly in the sense that Federal Power Commissioner Olds, whom the Senate declined to reappoint, was a key figure in Fair Deal plans as they have evolved since last January. In no outstanding instance has the President scored a really unqualified victory for his domestic program. The health and labor bills were defeated. The rent control and housing bills were modified and finally went through with bipartisan consent. The Brannan farm plan was laughed off the floor. The economic stabilization bill which included the socialistic exposure to put the government in the steel business, simply died of public exposure.

Other Means To Get Results

But meanwhile, and because of these failures, there has been a clearly visible campaign to accomplish Fair Dealism by other means. When Mr. Truman didn't get his health bill, he assaulted the medical profession through the anti-trust division of the Justice Department. When he didn't get the Taft-Hartley Act repealed, he ridiculed this law of the land in Labor Day speeches and appointed his own fact-finding boards to circumvent it. When he did not achieve the governmental controls of the Brannan and stabilization plans, he named two Supreme Court justices—both of them subservient party hacks—who can be expected to pull their weight for statism and against the cause of private enterprise.

Considered against this larger background, the Olds nomination takes its true meaning. Olds, although a much over-rated administrator, was counted on to do his stuff as a member of the team. He was part of the White House plan to regulate (since Congress had refused to legislate) the Fair Deal progress toward statism.

So in that sense Mr. Truman got a licking. It was a more significant licking than he got in the case of Mon Wallgren whom the Senate had previously rejected as a presidential appointee. Whereas Wallgren was a bourbon-and-poker crook of the President, Olds was a political gadfly. Olds' proven ability to irritate and alarm American businessmen will be missed.

Did Win Something

On the other hand Mr. Truman did win something when the Senate tossed off the Olds nomination. The inner circle reports are that the President isn't altogether sorry about the outcome. He certainly knew long before the final Senate vote that his man was a goner. The Senate sub-committee on commerce had registered 7-0 against Olds, and the full committee went 10-2 against him. As one Fair Dealer tells me, these trial runs clearly "telegraphed" the final 51-2 rejection on the Senate floor. Mr. Truman had the choice of withdrawing the nomination or letting it ride along to certain defeat.

He not only chose the latter course, but arranged for widespread and seemingly foolish publicity. He got Bill Boyle, his fellow graduate of the Pendleton political school who is now National Democratic Chairman, to appeal to "the people" via the State Democratic Committee. He had his Senate henchmen declare that the natural gas and oil interests were out to "get" Olds, which is true. None of these special interests even testified against the nomination. It wasn't necessary.

But why not at this hubub? Because Mr. Truman, with an eye on 1950 and '52 was building up another of those give-em-hell issues which he found so useful in '48. He can now go into New York, Olds' home state, and denounce the wicked capitalists who have destroyed this faithful public servant. More than that, Mr. Truman can nibble into the pro-Communist elements of the American Labor party and the Henry Wallace Progressives, groups which kept Mr. Truman from carrying New York and Pennsylvania in '48. Olds was rejected, at least in part, because of his pro-Communist writings of 20 years ago, and is thus a qualified martyr.

One Fair Dealer has privately estimated that Mr. Truman's showmanship in the Olds defeat is worth 50,000 votes in New York alone. And he added: "How can you beat a fellow like that?" How indeed?

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

I resent this!

And I hope that every man who reads this will share my resentment.

The very best earthworm digger at the Colorado Earthworm Hatchery, a pretty and delicate young girl, has made the unqualified statement that the only reason girls don't like worms is MEN.

There are 15 girls employed at this particular hatchery.

According to the proprietor, says a newspaper article, girls are better worm diggers than men.

His 15 girls dig worms by the million and like them. They even wear them as bracelets—just for the fun of it.

But all his girls are very young teenagers.

When they start to run around with the boys, they are no longer good as worm diggers.

That's why I resent the worm digger's statement.

The reason why women dislike worms, in her opinions and experience.

But men want their women to be feminine—she is 14, so she ought to know. They want them to be afraid of worms and snakes and things.

So they, the women, play coy and feminine, and make believe that they are afraid of worms.

Well, after reading the article, I made an experiment of my own.

This is the way I figured it out: It is quite possible that, to get her man, a girl might want to please him and play the part of the fragile, feminine little creature.

But after she got him, she doesn't have to put on an act any more, and can be her natural self.

She not only can be her natural self, but she usually IS, as every married man will admit.

So I dug a nice, juicy earthworm out of the ground, and took it into the kitchen where my wife was just preparing lunch.

"Cute little fellow, isn't he?" I said as I tried to put it around her wrist as a bracelet.

She shrieked and fled into the dining room.

It is estimated that 25 per cent of all hats sold to men are size 6½.

Military Innovations To Get Practical Test

By FRANK NEILL

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE WESTERN TASK FORCE AT SEA, Oct. 21—(INS)—Post-war battle techniques and military innovations were ready today for an acid test under combat conditions.

One hundred troop-packed ships of "Exercise Miki" plowed along a 100-mile-wide mid-Pacific no man's land toward a full-scale "assault" on Hawaii.

As "D-Day" of the combined army-navy maneuvers drew closer an interesting disclosure was made by high medical "brass" of Adm. B. J. Rodgers' 33-ship unit of the carrier-invading armada.

The doctors revealed that a new "miracle" drug which prevents seasickness will be fed to the crack marine-trained doughboys of the army's second division which will storm ashore to "retake" the Hawaiian Islands from occupying "aggressor forces."

The drug, called Dramamine, is being used for the first time under battle-like conditions. It was developed at the John Hopkins' hospital in Baltimore.

Adm. Rodgers pointed out that 25 per cent of the troops that hit beaches during the last war had suffered from seasickness which hampered their efficiency.

Seasickness Banished

It is claimed that Dramamine makes seasick soldiers, sailors and marine things of the past.

Also to be tried out in the present operations will be new techniques of air and sea rescue. These are said to be drastic improvements over the air-sea rescue methods employed in World War II.

New beach equipment taken along by the western task force includes barges that seem to "walk" over reefs, weird rubber-tired "jeepneys" which lift landing craft over the surf, secret tank-carrying utility craft and almost unbelievably new radio devices.

The marine corps is introducing some amazing new air support techniques in "Exercise Miki." One calls for marine fighter-pilots to land with ground troops and by means of special radio equipment to institute foolproof ground-to-air communication for the first time in military history.

Sampson Alliance Series Continues

Special evangelistic services which are under way at the Sampson street Christian and Missionary Alliance church with ex-Marine Sgt. Robert Frost will continue until September 30 with the exception of Saturday evenings.

Sgt. Frost who has just recently left the Marines has been speaking before good crowds each evening at the church. This evening he will speak on "The Man Who Ignored God". He will be heard Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. E. R. Truran is pastor of the church.

Asiatic Problem Is Discussed By Indian Speaker

Kumar Goshal, Native Of India,
Says United States Should Change Policy

Asserting that the Marshall plan has proven a failure, Kumar Goshal told Executives club members and their ladies in the first dinner meeting of the year in The Castleton last evening that the United States must change its foreign policy and recognize the people of Asia or she will lose their friendship.

Mr. Goshal, who is a native of India and has written a number of books about his native country and its people, stated that the European countries which had colonies in India, Burma, Malay and Indo-China have lost these colonies forever, and that this fact must be recognized.

India, he stated, through its prime minister Nehru has come to the United States for recognition.

of his country. He is not asking the taxpayer for one cent. There are business interests in India which are anxious to buy American goods, particularly machinery with which to found industry, and have the money to pay for it. On the other hand, he stated, the United States is sending the taxpayers' money to Europe to help her rehabilitate herself, as a protection against Communism.

Half the people of the world, he asserted, live in Asia. New governments are being formed there, independent of former masters. The leaders who provide the best program for the best interests of the common people are the ones who are going to succeed, regardless of whether they are Communists or capitalist.

The state department of the United States is blundering, if it does not come to the aid of the programs which will help these people.

Dr. J. Wesley Post, the new president, called on Dr. Jay L. Reed, chairman of the membership committee to introduce the new members of the club, of which there were a great number.

He announced that the next speaker will present a program which will be entertaining on November 17. He will be Jack Shultz.

and will tell of his trip down the Amazon from the Andes.

The reception committee will consist of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mc-Neill and Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Hazen.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Oct. 21.—Be it ever so humble, there's no place like a streetcar with hot and cold running water and all the comforts of home.

Such a trolley has come to rest on a trackless hill near Alexandria and rents for $40 a month. It includes a kitchen, bath and combination bed-living room.

The Richard McClellans, who own and rent the streetcar, say it can comfortably house two adults and a baby. That was the size of the last family to rent it and the McClellans report they found it a perfect fit.

Naturally, there are a lot of windows to be washed and draped in the trolley. It is hard to disguise the rather distinctive outlines of a streetcar and so this one looks exactly like a refugee from rush hour.

Took Wheels Off

Fearful lest it make a noise like a streetcar and roll away some windy day, the McClellans took the wheels off when they had it settled to their satisfaction.

More than 30 people within two days answered an advertisement offering the trolley for rent. The McClellans have not yet decided on the new tenants, but they say all prospects thought it a perfectly peachy place to live in.

The unusual home, according to Mrs. McClellan, is a sort of post-war happenstance.

She explains that she and her husband were unable to get building materials right after the war to construct living quarters for workers on their farm.

Got Extra Trolley

Then one day they focused on one of the Capital Transit system's streetcars tooling down a Washington, D. C., street and they decided that it had untold possibilities.

They found that the company had an extra trolley that it wasn't using at the time and they bought it on the spot.

They stripped the inside, covered four of the windows on the sunny side of the site they had in mind and trundled it up the hill.

The kitchen and bath were installed, the rooms partitioned off, and the McClellans found that the total result was quite fetching.

The original tenants have occupied it until now.

All in all that streetcar named Desire had better put up or shut up.

It looks like the McClellan's trolley named nothing at all has clinched the title of streetcar of the year.

Shenango Y-Teens Queen For A Day

Y-Teens of Shenango township high school staged "Queen for a Day" as a special program Friday open their club year.

A favorite day-time radio program was the pattern for a hilarious program to begin this club season for Shenango high school Y-Teens. Members of the club wrote and staged the entire show for a large group of new members in their school auditorium Friday during regular club period.

The script was written by Lorretta Burick, program chairman and Mary Letera, who were announcer and sponsor on the program. Other members participating were: Joann McConathy, master of ceremonies; Eleanor Shoaf, Barbara Kaufman, Delores Barron judges.

Contestants for the title were Laura St. John, Audrey Dodds, Betty Reed, Barbara Silliman, Buena McIlrath, Edna Duncan and Joann Munnel. Buena McIlrath was chosen "Queen" and Barbara Silliman runner-up. Prizes were given the winners and all other "contestants."

The world's largest continuous radio production line is in Pennsylvania at Philco's new Philadelphia plant.

New Phone Rates In Effect Today Are Announced

Typical New Rates for New Castle Announced By Manager N. N. Jaquish

New telephone rates, as they go into effect today, under the new schedule of rates filed with the Public Utility Commission at Harrisburg, were announced today by N. N. Jaquish, local manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Some typical rates for New Castle subscribers, as are follows:

Residence — Individual line, $3.75; two-party line, $3.00; four-party line, $2.50; multi-party line, $2.50.

Business—Individual, $6.75; two-party, $5.25; multi-party, $4.75.

In addition to the above rates there also will be various increases in the charges of extension telephones, private branch exchanges, private lines and other supplemental telephone equipment and services, it is stated.

The company explained that the new rates do not include the Federal Tax of 15% which has been in effect since 1944.

Broadcasting By Prison Inmate Now Silenced

PARCHMAN, Miss., Oct. 21—(INS)—Convict William Frank Moody finally has signed off for keeps after four years of broadcasting from three clandestine radio stations at Mississippi's prison farm.

The 27-year-old convict, in fact, was forced off the air when the Federal Communications commission tracked down his "ham" radio sets over which he had been broadcasting daily in his efforts to win a parole.

Moody, who is serving a 20-year sentence for armed robbery, has "paralyzed" that term into a 30-year stretch for escaping twice.

However, a spokesman at the governors office in Jackson said the silencing of Moody's voice would not interfere with his application for parole but it might not help much, either.

To Survey Methods
Of Rehabilitation
For Larynx Losers

Penn State Speech And Hearing
Clinic To Start Survey
To Aid Victims

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—(INS)—A survey and evaluation of the methods used in the rehabilitation of persons who have lost their larynx will be conducted by the speech and hearing clinic of the Pennsylvania State college under a grant of $500 from the Central cancer fund.

Dr. Eugene T. McDonald, director of the clinic, points out that about five out of 100,000 individuals have the larynx removed, usually as a result of cancer of the throat.

"The problem of rehabilitating these people is an acute one," McDonald explains. "They have lost their voice, the protection the larynx affords against foreign materials entering the lungs, and the fixation function of the larynx which prevents them from doing heavy work."

McDonald says persons faced with laryngectomy should be advised before the operation that they can learn to speak without a larynx and can continue to lead a normal life. He cites cases where persons who have had the larynx removed were able to return to positions such as teaching.

"One of the reasons people fear medical aid when they are afflicted with cancer of the throat is because they feel that if they have the larynx removed, they will be unable to be rehabilitated," McDonald believes.

Brotherhood Will Direct In Service

Men of the Brotherhood of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Jefferson and Grant streets, Rev. O. J. Wath, pastor, will have charge of the service Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock. Rev. J. Miller, D. D., will be the speaker. He has chosen to address the men on the subject of "Leadership."

Class Is Graduated At Shenango Pottery

In the catalogue of the American Society of Colleges and Universities you will find no mention of the Shenango Pottery as an educational institution.

It is an industry engaged in producing fine china, but on Wednesday, a class of post-graduate students in design was "graduated" from a six weeks' course in design as applied to a manufacturing plant.

The picture above shows the "graduates" with two of the instructors. All of the students are graduates of schools of design, all are capable designers. The class or seminar was held for the purpose of giving them advanced training and experience in pottery design.

Their names and schools are:

bus, O., Ohio State University; William McBurney, New Castle, art director of Shenango Pottery; Joseph Plaut, director, Institute of Contemporary Art, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Jane Dobrevich, Fargo, N. D., North Dakota State College, Alfred university and Cranbrook Art Academy; Miss Jane Parshall, Akron, O., Cleveland School of Art, Cranbrook Art Academy and Western Reserve University.

These "graduates" were chosen out of a field of 18 chosen from various schools of design and ceramic arts. For six weeks they attended classes, compiled note

McFeaters Granted Converter Filter Mechanism Patent

New Castle Man Gets Patent On Invention Assigned To Pennsylvania
Engineering Works
(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—On September 27, 1949, the United States Patent office granted patent number 2,482,017 on a "converter tilting mechanism" to Harry L. McFeaters, New Castle, Pa.

As is generally known, a Bessemer converter is a pear-shaped steel vessel mounted on trunnions; and, in use, it is first tilted to receive a charge of from five to 50 tons of molten pig iron. Thereupon, air is passed through the charge and the converter is turned slowly to an upright position; and during this portion of the process, the silicon, manganese and carbon of the pig iron are oxidized. At the end of the "blow," the vessel is again turned down on its side, the blast is shut off, and the finished steel is poured into ingot molds. The whole procedure usually takes from 12 to 18 minutes, and, consequently, the performance of the tilting apparatus is of fundamental importance in this method of making steel.

However, according to Mr. McFeaters, the prior mechanism for tilting or revolving these converters have been more or less crude, inefficient, and uneven or jerky in their operation. It is therefore the object of his invention to overcome these limitations and, for this purpose, he has devised an apparatus which he describes in his patent specifications as comprising "a worm and worm gear reduction unit, a pair of electric motors coupled to opposite ends of the shaft of the worm of such unit, a herring-bone gear and pinion reduction unit driven by said worm and worm gear unit and a self-aligning coupling connecting the shafts of the herring-bone gear to one of the trunnions of the converter."

Nevertheless, notwithstanding this technical description, it is claimed that this arrangement of Mr. McFeaters is rugged, efficient, free of lost motion, and conducive to a smooth and uniform rate of tilting regardless of balance-changing conditions. In addition, it has a relatively long life and functions satisfactorily even after the trunnion bearings wear to such an extent that the conventional drive could no longer be used.

This patent has been assigned to the Pennsylvania Engineering corporation.

Plan Hymn Festival In City October 30

Famed Cambrian Choir Of Cleveland Will Join In Festival At First Methodist Church

Four of the city's leading church organizations will sponsor an old-fashioned hymn festival, to be held Sunday evening, October 30, at 7:30 in the First Methodist church, N. Jefferson at North street. The sponsor organizations are New Castle Ministerial Association, Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, New Castle Council of Churches and the Men's Christian Fellowship. A joint committee has been set up for this purpose.

This is not a men's meeting, it is open to all who wish to attend. It will be primarily a service of song, in which the congregation will have ample opportunity to join.

The committee has the promise of the Cambrian choir from Cleveland to support the congregational singing and also to sing a number of classical selections out of the hymnology of the church. The committee also desires that there be a hundred female voices, alto and soprano, in the choir loft, to lend support to the congregational singing.

It is not the purpose to members away from their regular evening church service, but several of the churches have promised to forgo the normal service in order to enjoy the festival.

This is a pioneer endeavor. The ministry of song has been a part of our Christian heritage for centuries. The Welsh song festival is known to most of us. This is to be a service similar in character, with the congregational numbers entirely in English. It is another effort on the part of the combined religious forces to a reaffirmation of the faith upon which our country was founded.

All persons in the county or outside of the county who like to hear and sing gospel songs are cordially invited.

Women Employes Gain In Nation

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21—(INS)—The woman's place may be in the home, but according to a national employment analysis just completed by the University of Pennsylvania, the number of women employed in the U.S. has increased 47 percent during the past 38 years.

The survey shows that by the end of last year 16,500,000 were gainfully employed or approximately 1,130 per 10,000 population. In 1910, there were only 7,066,000 women or 768 per 10,000.

Clerical and sales work opportunities for women have increased 83 per cent, according to the survey.

There are actually about 1,800 islands in the Thousand Islands group in the St. Lawrence river.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—(INS)—For $2, plus tax, a mode-conscious lady can "clip" all comers at the new rummy game, Canasta.

A dangling, dazzling lapel clip was introduced in New York today as the latest necessity for a rummy player's wardrobe.

It's a gold and rhinestone basket (Argentine word "Canasta" means basket) overflowing with seven plastic aces (a prize-winning hand).

To match are a gold link bracelet dripping with an equally good wristful of Canasta cards.

The gadgets are guaranteed to delight rummy players. 1949's chosen people, and disgust bridge players, the forgotten race.

New Federal Law To Halt Evasion Of Cigarette Taxes

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21—(INS)

—A new federal law aimed at out-of-state cigarette-mailing firms is expected today to add about a million dollars a year to Pennsylvania's tax coffers.

The statute, signed into law by President Truman, requires the firms to provide tax agencies of each state with lists of customers.

"The new law will help put a stop to cigarette tax evasion in Pennsylvania and will increase our tax collections hundreds of thousands of dollars each year and possibly more than a million dollars," said State Revenue Department Comptroller G. A. Nally.

Many Pennsylvanians have been buying cigarettes from firms in Delaware, West Virginia and Maryland to escape paying the four cents a pack tax imposed by the general assembly as of Oct. 1.

The federal statute does not ban out-of-state purchases; the state law makes possession of more than 199 cigarettes an offense subject to a $2 fine and possible jail terms. A carton contains 200 cigarettes.

Pulaski Church Completes Plans For Homecoming

Oldtimers Will Join In Special Commemorative Services At Pulaski Methodist Church

By-gone days will be recalled Sunday at Pulaski Methodist church.

Marking of the 92nd year of the church and the first homecoming event since 1941 will no doubt attract an unusually large crowd of visitors, former members and friends in addition to the regular membership of the church.

Morning Services

Rev. Merle Weaver, the pastor, has chosen an appropriate theme for the morning worship period when he will be speaking on "What Makes the Church Great?" During the service baptism and reception of new members will take place. Assisting in the musical portion of the program will be Lynn Fowler of this city, Ilia Mae Edeburn of Pulaski and the Youth choir of the church. The service will be preceded by the Bible school hour, led by Superintendent Adam Grell. At noon the tureen dinner will take place with those participating bringing a tureen. Ladies of the W. S. C. S. will do the serving. The same group will serve a lunch between the afternoon and evening service.

The afternoon program, which is to start at 2 o'clock, will be highlighted by a chalk talk with Rev. Thomas I. Russell, pastor of Unity Presbyterian church, Greenfield, illustrating several Gospel hymns.

The artist will have a musical background during his drawing and will sing the hymns he has illustrated at the close of each picture he portrays. Other special music is planned for this service. Concluding the afternoon program will be the introduction of guests and a time for reviewing days of yesteryear.

Evening Program

Following the luncheon event the congregation will re-assemble in the church auditorium at 8 o'clock for an old fashioned hymn sing and inspiration. The pastor, Rev. Weaver, will direct in the music program. Assisting in the vocal music of the hour will be Miss Lena Mae McConnell of New Castle; Glen Hammerle of Grove City college and Miss Jean Ann Morgan of Pulaski. To close the eventful day will be the formation of a friendship circle.

The church has made notable progress down through the years

Good Taste By FRANCINE MARKEL

CASUAL PETTERS
"I find one of the boys I go out with most attractive but he is never satisfied unless he has his arms about me on our way home. He never suggests marriage to me nor does he ask me to go out with other boys. Do you think he will ever propose?"

Answer: No—not so long as you remain just a "casual petter." Girls enter this class through mistaken fear of unpopularity—fear that their friends will see them with no Saturday night dates, which fears result entirely from a inferiority complex. To cure yourself of this do all you can to rearrange your life so that you will continually meet new men.

Avoid being alone with this boy of whom you speak; arrange to go out with him only on double dates and to have the other girl in the party go with you and your escort to your door before she and her escort go finally to hers. If this is impossible, make up some story when you arrive home that you cannot ask him in because some guest is occupying the living room, or some other such excuse that seems logical. Then if he persists in following his usual methods on the front steps or in the vestibule, remember that laughing at him will prove to be better protection than sermonizing.

Question: How should I sign my name. I have been using Jane Doe on personal letters and Mrs. John J. Doe on all others. However, I was told my signature is Jane Doe and Mrs. John in parenthesis beneath. Is this correct?

Yes, your correct signature is Jane Doe with Mrs. John in parenthesis as you have been told.

Lafayette College Starts Experiments

School Of International Affairs Is Opened: New Experiment In Student Living

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 20—(INS)—Opening of the school of International Affairs and a new experiment in student living marked the start of the 118th academic year at Lafayette College.

The School of International Affairs, intended to prepare students for diplomatic service, business careers abroad and for graduate study in history or international relations, is housed in Watson Hall of International Affairs, a new building being used for the first time.

A curriculum based on the principle of a liberal education has been arranged for students in that school. Emphasis is placed on history, government, economics and literature as well as thorough training in the use of English and modern languages.

Students in that school reside in Watson Hall, where dining and recreation facilities have been provided. Foreign language tables have been established in the dining room so that students can obtain greater practice in the use of French. Before graduation, a student will have to demonstrate his ability to speak French and read two modern languages.

The new experiment in student living is being made in Soles Hall, also opened for the first time. Students residing in that building have their own dining room, which they operate on cooperative basis, and living and recreational facilities enjoyed in the past only by fraternal members.

WOMEN'S ECCLESIAL CLUB HAS HAY RIDE

A hilarious, old-fashioned hayride was thoroughly enjoyed by members of the Women's Ecclesial club, Thursday evening, in the New Wilmington area.

Mrs. Lena Bongivengo was leader of the evening, who led the group in community singing. The group later assembled in a dining room, on the New Wilmington road, where they were served a delicious dinner. Hayloft predominated at the table, and the autumn note was provided with colorful leaves and pumpkins.

Dancing was a later pastime, and during the evening, a special novelty act was presented by Mrs. Dora Masten and Mrs. Eleanor Caravela.

President of the organization is Mrs. Wanda Zarilla. The committee who made the necessary arrangements for the evening, includes, Mrs. Julia Barlett, chairman, and Mrs. Phyllis Viggiano co-chairmen.

Optimist Club Dinner Meeting

Myron Milbouer, Manager Of Social Security Office, Speaker For Evening

Optimist club held its regular dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Leslie hotel with Myron Milbouer, manager of the local Social Security office, speaker for the evening.

Rev. Simon opened the evening's program with a group song and a prayer, and President Carl Anderson introduced the guests for the evening.

Mr. Milbouer gave an interesting talk on the Federal Social Insurance program, followed by a period of questions and answers.

Plans were completed for a Halloween party to be held Thursday, October 27, at Oakhurst. The Optimist Mrs. will also be present at the costume party.

Optimist Week

Optimist Week will be observed November 6-13, with Ted Marlin, chairman, completing plans for a big week.

The club has now opened its charter for new members, it is announced, and it is hoped to have many new members within the next few weeks.

Guests for the evening were Mr. Milbouer, James Stevenson, Richard McLean and Charles Moser.

Next dinner meeting of the club will be held November 2 at the Leslie hotel. Program chairman Otto Pearsall has announced that William James, of the Pennsylvania Power company, will speak on and demonstrate "Lightning and Seeing".

Y.W.C.A. Staff Monthly Meeting

A. B. Wenger Of First Christian Church Is Guest At Y.W.C.A. Gathering

MANY SUBJECTS ARE DISCUSSED

Staff of the Young Women's Christian Association met for their regular bi-monthly meeting on Thursday. At these meetings the staff members, as hostesses, serve brunch which begins at 9:15. In order to promote fellowship with other social agencies and other organizations and also to learn more about them one or more guests are invited to attend.

Mrs. R. G. Eakin, hostess, invited A. B. Wenger, assistant minister at the First Christian church, as honor guest.

Worship Service

A worship service led by Miss Shirley Webber, executive at the branch on Elm street, opened the session. A main thought of Miss Webber's remarks was that God lived through what Jesus was, and so it is today, God lives through, not our words, but what we actually do.

At these staff meetings each director gives a report from her department and also asks for advice in case she has a problem on which she wants group thinking. Staff meetings are also a channel for what is called "In-Service Training".

YWCA Quota Explained

The executive director explained about the quota, or the amount of money which goes from the local YWCA in support of the national and world movements. The over all amount that is sent is called the quota. It is broken down into three parts, namely, the national budget appropriation, the World Fellowship contribution, and voluntary contributions from individuals. The national budget appropriation is a corporate kind of giving and is reckoned on a certain percentage of the budget, and it is used for work in this country on the national level. World Fellowship giving, while having a goal, is done voluntarily by clubs and individuals and is directed to YWCA work in other countries. The third grouping in the over-all quota, called voluntary contributions, comes from the members themselves who wish personally to share in the responsibility of the national expense.

Fellowship Promoted

The staff meetings promote fellowship between members, coordinate program and spread information from one department to another what each one is doing. In other words a staff meeting supples a great deal of oil in making the Y machinery run smoothly.

Because a YWCA staff is very conscious of what is happening in the world, the meeting closed yesterday with each one making a contribution dealing with the United Nations. One staff member never knew until yesterday that the YWCA has continuously had an official observer at the United Nations Assembly meetings. She is Mrs. Arthur Forrest Anderson who as national president, is on the World's YWCA Council. Another interesting contribution was that the people of Venezuela, a fish eating people had never had refrigeration for their large fish industry until promoted by the United Nations. Consequently many people there ate spoiled fish now they are able to always buy good fish, and at a cheaper rate than before.

U. N. Is Great Aid

Through its various agencies the United Nations furthers many projects and services throughout the world of which the average person knows nothing, because they do not get headlines, but which are most constructive and which will have far reaching results.

This part of the program was held in the interests of United Nations Week which is the week of October 24.

Mrs. Clark McClelland, director of Teen-age program will be hostess at the next full staff meeting and she plans to invite guests from two other Social Agencies for the brunch. It will be November 3 at 9:15.

The brunch is financed by each member of the staff, into a treasury from which the food is purchased, and is replenished when needed.

W.C.T.U. Groups Will Have Workshop

Five-County Sessions To Be Held October 27 At First Methodist Church

Quintet Workshop of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, representing the counties of Allegheny, Beaver, Lawrence, Butler and Washington, will be held at First Methodist church on Thursday, October 27.

The morning session will begin at 10 o'clock, while the afternoon assembly will open at 1:30 o'clock after luncheon is served at 12:30 o'clock. Local W. C. T. U. presidents must report reservations for the luncheon to Mrs. Scott Munnell, chairman, by Monday, October 24.

Members will participate in the noontime meditation period of the host congregation.

Certificates were awarded to those who read from ten to twenty books: Marian Ahlquist, Mary Austin, Sylvia Austin, Frank Bethle, Nick Carbone, Samuel DeFelice, Geraldine DeRicco, Charles Fitzpatrick, Joycelyn Gentsy, Kathleen Guthrie, Richard Joseph, William Mancino, Angelo Mezza, Joan Pastirak, Anthony Shish, Patrick Thomas, Alexandra Vassilion, Helen Vassilion, Tanya Ward, and Stella Ann Zabetakis, received certificates.

A special goal seal certificate was given to each pupil who read over twenty books, and Jon Abramson, Connie DeFelice, Jerry Fitzpatrick, Connie Joseph, Michael Mangieri, Eugene Moses, Joanne Slamon, James Mancino, and Judith Pacelli received this special award.

Story telling by Mrs. McKee brought the program to a close.

U.P. Presbyterial At Aliquippa Church

Mrs. Lowrie Anderson, South Sudan, Speaks To Beaver Valley W.M.S.

Members of the Women's Misionary society of Beaver Valley met Thursday in Aliquippa U. P. church with sessions being conducted in the morning and afternoon. "Learning To Serve Him" was the presbyterian's theme.

Mrs. Lowrie Anderson, missionary to the South Sudan, was the afternoon's main speaker. Mrs. Anderson stated that the Mohammedans are entering the South Sudan by the millions. Their entering that region may hinder the work of the United Presbyterian church.

"Singing the Glory Songs" was Mrs. Jesse Martsoff's topic at the beginning of the afternoon period. After Mrs. Floyd Witherspoon offered prayer, Miss Agnes Marshall sang a solo. Dr. C. K. McGeorge closed with the benediction.

An executive meeting opened the morning session. Mrs. C. K. McGeorge led devotions. Excellent reports of the W. G. M. S. convention were given by Mrs. E. Bradley and Mrs. D. S. Kennedy. "Our Part in the Glory Song" by Mrs. T. H. Newcomb was the closing subject for the morning session.

Those attending from Temple Israel of this city as delegates and guests were: Mesdames William Cosel, second vice president of the State Federation; R. S. Rubenson, president of Temple Israel; J. Rafelson, J. Perelman, Betty Schwartz, Dave Silverman, Ralph Friedman, J. Markley, Ed Fisher, Ben Kay, N. Ehrlich, M. Storch and Ed Myers.

The spot in Pennsylvania from which Washington started across the Delaware on Christmas eve, 1776, to attack Trenton, is now a state park.

Gen. Eisenhower Gives Views On Unification

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Former Army Chief of Staff General Dwight D. Eisenhower (right) as he told the House Armed Services committee that he believed unification can work. He said differences of opinion were bound to occur and that "we're expecting perfection too quickly". Seated with him is General J. Lawton Collins (left), Army chief of staff.

Special Session Is Not Likely

Not Believed Legislature Will Be Called For Special Session

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21.—(INS)

—Chances are slim that there will be a special session of the General Assembly to set up machinery to pay the debt of the $500,000,000 soldiers' bonus should it be approved November 8. Although at least one State Senator, John L.

Haluska, of Cambria, believes it will be needed, the majority of unofficial opinion maintains a special session will not be necessary

. The State American Legion

does not intend to demand a recall of legislators, according to

Pennsylvania Department Adjutant

Edward J. Linsky.... The

Legion believes there is enough money in tax coffers to "start the ball rolling"—to set up the machinery and float the necessary

bonds.... Linsky said the Legion is not in favor of spending money in calling back legislators for "the routine task of settling things a-rounding on bonus payments. Estimates for initial payments to veterans of the bonus vary from two to three months from the time the electorate approves the amendment.... The Pennsylvania displaced persons commission, which has brought 7,277 refugees to the state, reported to Governor Duff that the most serious criticism

leveled stemmed from the delay between a request for a DP and the final arrival in the state....

The report, written by Commission Chairman Clyde A. Lynch, president of Lebanon Valley College, said the delays were due to

"circumstances beyond our control". He said due to great length in over seas screening process,

the international refugee organization is unable to put DP's on

America-bound boats on schedule....

The IRO is the United Nations

organization through which Europeans who wish to come to America can be screened.

State Health Secretary Norris W. Vaux has appointed Freda Restenberger, formerly associated with the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind, as chief of the health education division. The appointment was backed by the department and Miss Restenberger went on the payroll as of October 11 but more than a week after receiving the political plum she had not yet appeared at her office at the State Capitol.

The resignation of Charles M. Morrison, of Ivyland, secretary of the commonwealth will give Governor Duff another major appointment in the months ahead.... Morrison, who quit due to ill health, was appointed in January, 1943.

Deputy Secretary Gene Smith, of Allentown, will serve as department head until Duff makes a selection.... The governor is expected to fill the post promptly....

The commonwealth vacancy is the fourth in the cabinet since Duff took office 34 months ago. Others were revenue, welfare and commerce.... David Harris quit as revenue secretary and Orus J.

Mathews resigned as commerce secretary after tiffs with Duff.... Charles R. Barber abandoned the welfare secretaryship after being elected state treasurer.... Frank C. P. McGinn, of Bryn Mawr, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Young Republican Clubs, has been mentioned as a candidate for the $15,000-a-year post along with Smith.

Pennsylvania Week was originated in the fall of 1946 by Floyd Chalfant, Secretary of Commerce in the Martin administration.... According to a veteran Republican publicityman, Chalfant hoped the idea would appeal to Governor Duff to such an extent that he would be carried over as Commerce Secretary from the Martin administration. It didn't. Duff, however, expanded and improved on the original program.

Find Man Guilty On Murder Charge

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—(INS)—
Frank Stegert, 38, today faced a possible 10 to 20-year prison sentence after he was found guilty of second degree murder in the shooting of another man in an argument over the splitup of hold-up money.

The guilty verdict was returned yesterday by a jury of seven women and five men after four hours of deliberation.

According to testimony, Stegert shot Francis Klitsch, 42, on Aug. 13, 1949. He claimed it was self defense, insisting that he thought Klitsch was going to shoot him.

Both men were ex-convicts.
They had argued over the division of the $29,000 A. M. Byers company payroll holdup, although neither man was directly involved in the stickup. Stegert had acted as go between in lending Klitsch's car to the actual holdup gang for use as a getaway car.

The late Vice President Charles Curtis spent his boyhood among the Kaw Indians.

Report Turkeys To Be Plentiful

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(INS)—
The nation's housewives had some cheering news for the Thanksgiving holiday today.

Government estimates showed that turkeys will be plentiful this year with prices somewhat lower than last year.

Farmers are producing 40 million turkeys, an increase of 29 per cent over a year ago. It is the second largest crop on record.

Prices range 11 to 14 cents a pound lower than a year ago, and while some increase can be expected for the holidays, government experts believe that turkeys will sell for less than in 1948.

Pennsylvania Week Special Train Makes Stop In Pittsburgh

Parade Is Feature In Homewood-
Brushton District Of City

Thursday Night

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Some 30,000 Pittsburghers welcomed Governor James H. Duff last night with a Pennsylvania Week parade in Pittsburgh's Homewood-Brushton district.

The celebration followed arrival in Pittsburgh of the 11-car train "Pennsylvania Week Special" with a cargo of distinguished guests who are participating in the Pennsylvania Week activities.

Besides the governor, notables included Presly McCance, chairman of Pennsylvania Week; opera star, John Charles Thomas; Hedda Hopper, a columnist; and Theodore Roosevelt III, state secretary of commerce.

The governor later addressed a gathering in Westinghouse high school auditorium, and Roosevelt spoke at a dinner meeting of the Pittsburgh Advertising Club.

The touring celebrities were greeted upon their arrival in Pittsburgh by Mayor David L. Lawrence and movie actor Danny Kaye. The governor decorated Kaye as "inspector general of Pennsylvania."

The train has visited 28 cities since its departure from Harrisburg last Monday. The tour will be concluded in York tomorrow.

TWO WORKMEN DIE

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Two workmen died of heart attacks while working at their jobs in Pittsburgh yesterday.

J. Earl Weigard, 55, collapsed and died while working as a carpenter on the new U. S. Steel-Mellon bank building now under construction in downtown Pittsburgh.

Donald L. Richards, 47, was pronounced dead after he collapsed while working underground on a damaged water line near the Philadelphia Co. building. He was an employee of the Allegheny County Steam Heating company.

The accident fatality rate per cent in the United States is higher than in any other country.

ANIMALS AND VITAMINS
Some people wonder how it happens that animals seem to get enough vitamins and minerals and calories. They do not go to school to learn about these wonderful things.

Instinct is something that we do not understand very well.

Tabby cat catches a mouse. She eats it all. She does not throw away some of the most valuable parts like we do. She eats the skin and the brain and the liver and everything else.

Old Bossie eats hay. She eats it all. When she eats grain she does not grind a lot of the good things out of it and throw them away.

Bruin finds a bumble bee nest. He eats everything in sight except the buzz.

We may be as cross as a bear sometimes but not always as wise.

Folks Of Fame

Oliver Cromwell was born in 1599, in Huntingdon, England. His education seems to have been sketchy. He was extremely religious, relying on the Lord's guidance when his course was not clear.

He was also, intolerant of those who differed from him in religion. He took a leading part in the rebellion against Charles I, and was largely due to his military skill that the king's forces were defeated and the monarch was beheaded. He became head of the government and was accorded the title Lord Protector. Some wanted to make him king. He died at the height of his power, September 3, 1658.

Born at Cannes, France, April 13, 1904, Lily Pons studied piano and singing. Made her debut at Mulhouse, France, as "Lakme" in 1928. Coming to America she sang the role of "Lucia" in "Lucia de Lammermoor" with the Metropolitan Opera company in 1931, and had an immense success. She divorced her French husband in 1933 and married a Russian-American conductor. She has since become a United States citizen.

Members Of Underseas Demolition Team

—Acme Telephoto

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.—Seven members of an Undersea Demolition team are shown in a rubber raft in a picture released by the Armed Forces Information Service in connection with Operation "Miki", joint Army-Navy amphibious maneuvers now underway off the Hawaiian Islands. These "frogmen" are highly trained swimmers who scouted enemy beaches from Normandy to Anzio and from New Guinea to Tokyo during World War II and who represent the first line of attack in any large scale amphibious operation.

Mrs. John Rhodes was a pleasant hostess to associate members of her card club recently at her home on Main street.

Five hundred was the diversion with high score awards going to Mrs. Sam Frederick and Mrs. Stewart Phillips.

At the close of the card games the hostess served a delicious lunch. She was aided in serving by Mrs. J. Helble and Mrs. Frederick.

WOMEN'S CLUB MEETING
Members of the Woman's club assembled yesterday afternoon in the basement of the Presbyterian church for their monthly meeting. Mrs. Albert Lutz, president, conducted the business session.

Reports of the recent Lawrence County Federation meeting in Ellwood were given by Mrs. Lutz and Mrs. Charles Ferguson. An invitation was extended the group to attend the Bessemer Woman's club on November 8.

Mrs. John Ketterer was in charge of the program, which included a piano selection by DeWayne Kanagy, a piano duet by DeWayne and Jerry King and a book review, "Cheaper By the Dozen", by Mrs. Edward Butler.

Six Arrested In Shortage Of Bank Funds

Alleged Fraud In Bank At Spencerville, Ind., Is Being Probed

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 21.—(INS)—Bank examiners probed deeper today an alleged $350,000 fraud which wiped out more than half of the deposits of a small Spencerville, Ind., bank and resulted in the arrest of six persons.

Fraud was suspected about a month ago after the discovery of a shortage at the Farmers and Merchants State bank as Spencerville. Four men were arrested on secret indictments voted a week ago.

Banking officials said the shortage developed over a period of eight years.

Seized yesterday and Wednesday by FBI agents and police in connection with the reported shortage were:

Dale Wicoff, a Spencerville high school teacher; Ray Hoover, a grocer; Andrew J. Miller, a Leo Ind. hatchery operator, and Leslie Bardsley, a Harlan Ind. trucker.

Already under arrest were Clyde G. Rechtenwall, 65-year-old bank cashier, and Roy C. Chaney, Jr., son of the bank's director.

Federal officials said the last four men arrested were accused of aiding and abetting Rechtenwall in the alleged misapplication of bank funds. Chaney, at a recent Fort Wayne and Harlan auto dealer, was indicted for mail fraud.

Most Involved

U. S. District Attorney Gilmore Hayne called the tangle "one of the most involved bank frauds ever uncovered." Authorities said thousands of worthless checks apparently were honored by Rechtenwall and then stacked away in a bank vault with no record made of payments.

Noble F. Schlatter, an assistant federal district attorney, said one of the most amazing aspects of the eight-year "manipulation" was that Rechtenwall apparently never profited by a single dollar.

Schlatter said Chaney's estimated $130,000 "take" made him the chief "beneficiary" of the alleged money mixup.

He estimated Miller's "profit" at $30,000, Wicoff's at $5,000 to $6,000, Hoover's at between $16,000 and $19,000, and Bardsley's at a little over $800. However, Schlatter said, more than 1,000 of Bardsley's checks appeared to be worthless.

He pointed out that examiners have checked only a quarter of the bank's accounts during the current investigation.

Although Rechtenwall has refused to discuss the reported fraud since his arrest last month at Columbus, O. Schlatter said the alleged shortages apparently stemmed from his friendship with the other principals—all identified as prominent man in their communities.

Young Prisoner Is On Hunger Strike

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 21.—(INS)—A "seriously weakened" young prisoner faced forced feeding today in the 11th straight day of his hunger strike protesting alleged overcrowding in the Pulaski county jail.

The prisoner, Guy Qualls, a 21-year-old parolee from a Texas prison, rejected a breakfast of oatmeal cream and sugar, doughnuts and coffee eleven days ago and has not eaten since. He was jailed on burglary charges.

Qualls was taken to the state hospital yesterday after physicians said he was in a seriously weakened condition. They planned attempts to force him to eat.

Jail officials said that as many as 100 prisoners are sometimes held in the prison, which is designed for 75.

Several other prisoners joined the hunger strike on the first day but soon gave it up.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Sara Byers of 114 Quest street has been called to Cleveland, due to the critical condition of her daughter, Jessie Stoneham, who was seriously injured in an accident. She is confined to Mt. Sinai hospital.

Two former residents of this city, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bauder are both ill in Youngstown, it is learned. Mrs. Bauder is confined to the North Side hospital in Youngstown, having undergone an operation there. Mr. Bauder has been confined to his home at 210 Thornton street, Youngstown, for the past four years with paralysis.

DOG CAUSES LACERATION

A dog attacked and lacerated the leg of Ronald Fulkerson, 721 South Ray street, at Butler avenue and Ray street. When Fulkerson was enroute to his place of employment today, police were informed.

"They also are aided by thousands upon thousands of misguided do-gooders, by a spendthrift administration in Washington and the spendthrift attitude of the people."

William Penn's father, Admiral Penn, loaned King Charles II, of England, 16,000 pounds. The King gave William Penn title to what is now Pennsylvania as payment for that loan. The wealth of Pennsylvania has been estimated recently as $30,000,000,000.

Research projects at Pennsylvania State college led to better varieties of crops and better methods of farm management which have increased Pennsylvania farmers' income $18,000,000 a year.

A river has stages of development, youth, maturity and old-age, just as do persons.

Mr. Perry Grossman was responsible for the day's registration. A letter of appreciation from Mrs. Caroline A. Moore, state director of the soldiers and sailors department, was read. Various unions of the county contributed towards the purchasing of five tickets for soldiers and sailors to attend the Diamond Jubilee banquet of the National W.C.T.U. at Philadelphia.

Mrs. Myrie Blythe and Mrs. Frank Blaine served coffee for the box luncheon at noon.

The afternoon session opened with devotions being led by Mrs. Scott Munnell. Rev. Ralph McConnell, pastor of Slippery Rock Presbyterian church, gave a timely talk on the theme, "International Relations for Peace." After Roy Meenan offered two vocal solos, Mrs. Fox gave highlights of the state convention and also presented awards to representatives of various unions of the county.

Pupils Of Ward See Mrs. Tracy Honored

Mrs. Spencer Tracy, former Mahoning School Teacher, given Award by Gov. J. H. Duff

In the recent Community Chest poster contest among the schools of the city, the following pupils at Mahoning school were winners in their respective grades at the ward school, and were entered in the city wide contest.

Winners—Room 2-109, Frances Felix; 3-107, Jean Frye; 4-206, Lorretta Priscaro; 5-202, Hattie Finin; 6-03, Samuel Culbertson.

Pupils of seventh, eighth and ninth grades were guests of the Universal-Rundle corporation at their pottery plant, from 10 to 12 noon of Thursday. During that time, the plant officials provided a conducted tour of the entire plant, which the pupils enjoyed very much.

Many of the older boys and girls of Mahoning school were present at the stop-over of the "Pennsylvania Train" here on Thursday afternoon, and witnessed Governor James H. Duff present Mrs. Spencer Tracy, former teacher at Mahoning school, with the Pennsylvania Ambassador Award for 1949.

Methodists Home Donations Sunday

At Mahoning Methodist church, beginning Sunday, donations will be received for the Ida M. Cribbs Home for the Aged.

Members of the congregation are asked to bring their donations and canned goods to the church at the morning or evening service.

The donations to this worthy cause are usually liberal every year. The Youth Fellowship society alone has set its goal to the amount of $100.

This week, the Women's Society of Christian Service of the church turned over a nice donation of canned goods for the Ruth M. Smith home at Sheffield.

Witnesses Parade At Brooks Field, Ky.

Mrs. Grace Strohecker of 621 West Clayton street has returned from a ten days trip to the southland, visiting Lexington, Louisville, and Fort Knox, Ky. She visited her son, Pvt. William E. Strohecker, who is attached to the 158th Division Band of Fort Knox.

Mrs. Strohecker witnessed the splendid parade on October 12 before foreign diplomats at Brooks Field, Fort Knox.

Resident's Sister Dies On Wednesday

Banquet Event At Central Christian Proves Successful

Rev. Wilbur A. Reid Of Knoxville
Christian Church Speaker At South Side Event

Dads and Daughters banquet of Central Christian church on the South Side proved to be a very successful event on Thursday evening. The banquet was the beginning of a series of banquets in the church planned throughout the coming fall and winter months.

The sumptuous meal opened with the invocation by the pastor, James N. Rainey. Following the delicious banquet served by the deaconesses of which Mrs. Elmer Glass is chairlady, the program got under way.

The opening feature, was a chalk picture by Miss Margaret Neal of Pittsburgh with two vocal solos presented by her father, Rev. Paul Neal of the Shadeland Avenue Christian church, Pittsburgh. Mrs. Audrie Cromie Ramsey was at the piano. Following the picture, a timely address was given by Rev. Wilbur A. Reid of the Knoxville Christian church.

George Bauman presented Miss Helen Strobel, a daughter of Central Christian, who was the honored guest of the evening with a gift from the church and Bible school.

The banquet was closed with the showing of motion pictures of Camp Christian, followed by the benediction by Mr. Bauman.

GOOD FISHING

John Kauffman of 1226 East Washington street, city bus operator, reports having had some nice fishing in the creek near Franklin on Thursday. He landed three fine bass. He says he had seven or eight other "strikes", one real large one getting away because it had not been hooked properly.

Polio Fund Dance At New Wilmington

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 21.—Arrangements have been completed for a Polio Fund dance to be held in New Wilmington high school October 28.

Freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes are sponsors of the dance. All expenses will be paid by them and entire proceeds of the dance will be turned over to the Polio Fund.

A personal interest for the school in having the dance is the fact that Warren Rotgaber, senior, was recently stricken.

The dance is not restricted to persons attending high school.

Scout Leaders

movement for world federations, since as a nation we have given the world the federal concept of government.

After Mr. McLean's talk, there was a period of questions and discussion, which showed the interest that was aroused by this challenging presentation.

Education Week

Following this discussion the meeting was turned over to Dr. Joseph Hartman, who explained that the week of November 7 is American Education Week, and that Wednesday, November 8 has been set aside for parents to visit a Highland school.

President James C. Cavill conducted the meeting, John O. Houston, chairman of the music committee led the group in singing. Kenneth E. Kennedy was elected treasurer. Mrs. Baer, chairman of the publications committee reported on the National Parents Teachers magazine.

Tells of Federalists

As stated in the National Charter of the Congress of Parents and Teachers, one of the objectives of the PTA is to "foster a world community outlook through education". The PTA has a four point program to carry out, and one of the objectives is world understanding.

In line with this desire for world understanding, the meeting was turned over to M. W. McLean, executive director of the United World Federalists of the Pittsburgh Area Council. He described the philosophy behind the United World Federalist movement, and explained that the United States must assume some responsibility for a new era of world understanding.

Federal Aid For Dental Education O.K.'d By Dentists

Dental Association Endorses Aid—
Without Federal Control
Of Schools

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—(INS)—The principle of federal aid to dental education—but without government control of the schools—had the endorsement Thursday of the American Dental Association holding its 90th annual convention in San Francisco.

The association's house of delegates adopted a resolution yesterday declaring that such federal aid is acceptable, but adding:

"The government shall not exercise any control over or prescribe any requirements with respect to the curriculum, teaching personnel or administration of any schools or the admission of applicants thereto."

A resolution opposing federal support of dentistry schools was defeated by the delegates earlier in the day.

Dr. J. C. A. Harding of San Diego, Calif., meanwhile, told his colleagues of a post-payment plan for dental care under which the dentist tells the patient beforehand what his bill will be and then helps him arrange a method of monthly payments through a bank loan.

Dr. Harding termed this procedure preferable to pre-payment methods envisaged in President Truman's compulsory health insurance plan. He said he and other dentists in San Diego had been using the post-payment method for 11 years and that the carrying banks have lost only 1.8 per cent.

BEAVER TWP.

Big Beaver Grange will hold its annual halloween party on Thursday evening, October 27 at the Grange Hall. The committee in charge consists of Eleanor Wilson, Florence Walker, and Paul McCullough.

At the most recent meeting of the grange, Chuck Wilson of the Beaver Falls station, conducted a "Meet Your Neighbor" program. Interviewed were: Mrs. James Beatty, George Walker, Chester Stewart, Leland McCullough, and Ralph Leslie. Each were given a prize from a Beaver Falls merchant. A recording of the program will be broadcast over W.B.V.P. on Monday, October 24 at 9:30 a.m.

At the next meeting of the grange on Monday evening, October 24, Dr. F. L. Wertz, of Beaver Falls will speak on behalf of the Sportsmen's Association and show sound films.

The Kaibab National Forest in northern Arizona contains the largest stand of virgin timber in the world.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Hollywood's sizeable group of nimrods, anglers and the tidy little bunch who just like to get away from it all and rough it in $30-a-day resorts are leaving town in droves these days.

Reason for their departures is to get in some fall hunting and fishing between pictures and before California's unpredictable winter sets in.

Jack Briggs, Ginger Rogers' estranged mate, has talked Robert Mitchum into sampling a spot of cougar hunting in the foothills around Hollywood. In a few weeks, the two will leave for Oregon's Rogue river country for more hunting and some fishing.

Just back from the Oregon country is Richard Webb and his wife, Joy, who spent two weeks at Diamond Lake where they caught the limit in trout every day.

Webb, who just finished a role in "Sands Of Two Jima," landed a 14-pound trout.

Other southern Oregon enthusiasts are Dana Andrews, Clark Gable, Robert Taylor, Gary Cooper, and Andy Devine, Guy Madison and Eugene Pallette.

Veteran film director Arthur Lubin just isn't daunted by anything.

The director's last work has the talking mule saga of "Francis". Now he's going to film H. Allan Smith's rib tickler, "Rhubarb," the story of a cat that owns a baseball team.

"Rhubarb" is still in the planning stage. Nothing is settled yet, but Lubin is in the market for an intelligent cat—preferably one that knows something about baseball.

Lizabeth Scott Her Legal Name

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 21.—(INS)—Movie star Elizabeth Scott cast aside Thursday the name with which she started life, Emma Matzo, to legally acquire the name she made famous in the flickers.

Superior Judge Clarence M. Hanson granted Miss Scott's petition to drop the name of Emma Matzo after she said that she had established herself in the film world and that she now finds it inconvenient to continue to have her original name.

ROME—(By Mail)—The best advice in the world when in Rome is to do as the Romans do.

This is known as the course of least resistance and permits the visiting fireman to sit all day at sidewalk cafes, drinking coffee that first lifts the hair and then the hat off the head.

It also permits him to eat his weight in spaghetti, relax over another bottle of wine and dash through town at 80 miles an hour on a motorcycle with the cut-out wide open, and the devil take the hindmost pedestrian.

Otherwise the visitor must act like a tourist and that way lies madness, general debility and falls—arches. Everything in Rome is a tourist must, and the visitor who attempts to see the works in less than a lifetime ought to have his head as well as his feet examined.

Just Relax

The thing to do in Rome, obviously, is to do as the Roman does—relax. A Roman is not the man to run around looking at ancient ruins unless they are feminine, rich and in need of escort service.

Like the New Yorker who never goes over to the Statue of Liberty or up to Grant's Tomb until his out-of-town visitors twist his arm, no Roman is voluntarily going to prowl around the interior of the Coliseum or mouse through the ruins of the Forum unless prodded.

It took me a good three days to realize the wisdom of doing as the Romans do. At the end of that period, my metatarsals gave out and I gave up.

However, by that time I had accomplished my prime mission in Rome. With the aid of a slightly puzzled guide, I had ferreted out with the zeal of an FBI agent on a malefactor's trail any footprints left by two Roman characters named Julius Caesar and Marcus Tullius Cicero.

It's even a little puzzling to me why I felt strongly enough about those two hams to put in so much leg-work covering their trails, but perhaps other victims of a classical education who spent the best years of their lives translating Caesar's commentaries and Cicero's Phillips may understand my urge.

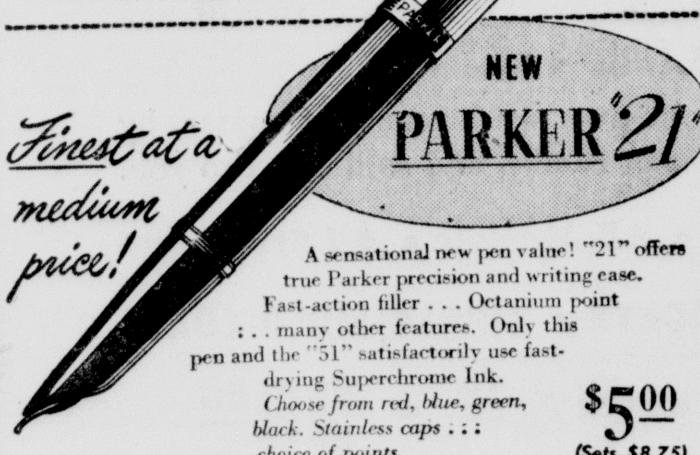

"Most American ladies are not interested in Caesar and Cicero," the guide said politely.

Ruined Happy Girlhood

"They're the two bums who ruined my happy girlhood," I said moodily.

Lenhart did the kissing? He put his heart into his work.

Presentation Of Award

Governor Duff was introduced by the president of the Greater New Castle Association, Richard E. Rentz.

Prefacing the award Governor Duff said, "your selection of your Pennsylvania Ambassador is a most happy one."

"As you know the award goes to a former Pennsylvanian who has done outstanding work in another state. Louise Treadwell Tracy has done a magnificent piece of humanitarian work in California. She has given of herself, of her means and of her tremendous energy that little children might be taught to speak. I can think of no finer work, and I can think of no more worthy person upon whom to bestow this honor for our great state."

"As Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania I am proud to award this plaque to Mrs. Tracy." As the governor handed Mrs. Tracy the plaque, the crowd roared out a cheer that seemed to bounce back from the hillside just west of the railroad station.

Mrs. Tracy Replies

Mrs. Tracy's reply was brief. She said, "I am grateful for this award, and also grateful to the mothers of those little children we have helped, for giving me the opportunity to help them."

John Charles Thomas was introduced. Thomas of the magnificent voice. He sang two numbers, the first "Oh What A Beautiful Morning" from "Oklahoma" and the "Green Eyed Dragon," as only John Charles Thomas can sing. It seemed a question who enjoyed the singing the most, Thomas or the crowd.

Then came the Lady With the Hats, Hilda Hopper, a native of Altoona, former stage and screen star and for years a movie columnist of Hollywood.

Miss Hopper has gained fame through her eccentric hats. The one she had on Thursday was an example. It looked like a fugitive from a halloween parade but eccentric as it was, as startling as it was, it delighted the crowd.

"You have paid a fine tribute to my old friend Louise Treadwell Tracy here today," said Miss Hopper. "She has done a work out in California that will always be remembered but it is sweet of you fellow townsmen to show her that you like us, appreciate it. I only hope my own city of Altoona turns out such a tremendous crowd when we get there."

Miss Hopper invited a youngster from the crowd to come up to the platform and the youngster was Louis Recheck. "I wanted a red haired boy like Governor Duff" said Miss Hopper and Louis is it. Fact is he looks something like the governor. I just wanted to say to all you youngsters and to Louis Recheck that this ceremony today means something. It is a demonstration of Democracy at work. In this great state and nation any young man who will work can advance. Perhaps some day Louis will be governor of Pennsylvania."

As she finished Miss Hopper kissed Louis and explained, "as the grandmother of the year I am going to kiss this young man."

Secretary Roosevelt

Secretary of Commerce Theodore Roosevelt, 3rd, was the closing speaker. "Pennsylvania is a great state," he said, "and Pennsylvania Week is for the purpose of advertising that fact. It is our Pennsylvania, ours to cherish and develop and to help grow. This crowd today is the largest crowd we have had at any stop on the trip. You are to be congratulated. By the way," said Mr. Roosevelt with a twinkle, "what is the best city in Pennsylvania?" and the crowd roared back as one tumultuous voice, "New Castle."

Ed Shaughency explained that Ezra Stone, the Henry Aldrich of radio, had left the train at Erie Wednesday night due to the sickness of his mother.

Program Over At 2:40

Mr. Roosevelt was the last speaker. As he finished the steps were taken up, the Lawrence county people left the platform, and the Brownlee Sisters sang "Toot, Tootie, Goodbye."

The senior high school band directed by Joe F. Replode struck up "The Pennsylvania Polka", the crowd cheered and the Pennsylvania train moved on its way towards Beaver Falls.

It was an unusual ceremony at the West Side station. From the standpoint of New Castle the tremendous outpouring demonstrated pride in the city and state and also admiration for the young lady who was honored, Mrs. Tracy.

From the official side of the platform, it was an evidence to Governor Duff and his party that New Castle does things in a big way.

The ceremony was a part of Pennsylvania Week and was arranged by the Greater New Castle Association.

Local Y-Teens*Send Candy Abroad*Chocolate For Christmas' Project Is In High Gear In City-County Schools

More than 300 5-cent bars of chocolate from New Castle will be among the hundreds of thousands winding their way to distressed children abroad this season as a result of the "Chocolate for Christmas" project being conducted by Y-Teens of city and township schools as the final event of Y-Teen Roll Call Week, which ended Monday.

Y-Teens of Union and Shenango township schools have this week sent 200 candy bars and other clubs will follow with theirs. Union Y-Teens held a special gift-bringing ceremonial Monday afternoon, at which time four boxes of candy were presented, gift wrapped and ready for mailing.

Mrs. Clark E. McClelland, Teen-Age Program Director of the local YWCA, a Red Feather agency, said that each Y-Teen in the club will contribute one chocolate bar to the packages which will be mailed to children of all ages overseas as the "token of friendship" which is the theme of the Y-Teen drive this year. The total national goal sought is 350,000 chocolate bars, since that is the number of teen-agers who are YWCA members today.

As there are YWCAs in 69 nations, she added, these packages will be sent to the YWCA World Emergency Fund at national headquarters in New York City, and from there to American YWCA representatives abroad and to national headquarters of YWCA in other countries. The chocolate bars will then be redistributed to the children in the most deprived areas or wherever they are needed most.

Construction Of Sewer Is Begun

Kane Bros., contractors, have commenced construction of the outfit or storm sewer on Audley Avenue, from Sumner avenue which will run into a hollow about 100 feet distant. A manhole and catchbasins are also to be constructed. City Engineer John Z. Street also reported that the company will today complete a storm sewer in an alley in the rear of Luton street between Hazen and William streets.

HARLANSBURG

Unity Baptist church will have the regular morning services but no evening meetings next Sunday. The Sunday school convention will be held Oct. 23 afternoon and evening at the Plaingrove Presbyterian church.

The Bible school closed with a large attendance at the final meeting. After the school session all retired to the basement for a social time. Mr. Elliott presented Dr. Orr with a sum of money in behalf of the Sudway schools represented and in recognition of his splendid help. Dr. Orr resumes Bible school classes in the Mt. Jackson district in the immediate future.

New Method Of Treatment For Frostbite Given

Indiana University Medical Professors Suggest 'Rapid Thawing' Method

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Rapid thawing, as opposed to the long-accepted practice of slow thawing, was described today by two Indiana University medical professors as an efficient means of treating frostbite.

The professors cautioned, however, that the ideal temperature for thawing was found to be slightly above body temperature rather than excessive heat.

The report was presented in Chicago to the 37th annual Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons by Dr. Harold B. Shumaker, head of surgery at the U.S. Medical Center, and Dr. Joseph C. Finneran.

The Shumaker-Finneran report based on recent experiments on several species of animals, differed widely from the theory that slow thawing is the only advisable method to use for the prevention of gangrene caused by the rapid breakdown of blood vessels.

May Be Of Value

The surgeons said that the experiments have indicated rapid thawing, anticoagulants and the production of an increased blood supply to the frostbitten portion of the body may be of value in minimizing tissue loss. They noted that such procedure was contrary to views presently held by the medical profession.

Drs. Shumaker and Finneran declared that in all the experiments testing these measures in experimental frostbite the efficacy of rapidly thawing the frozen part was confirmed. They said tissue varying widely with regard to the relative proportion of skin and muscle mass were used in the tests.

The surgeons said that when the frozen part was allowed to thaw in air and then was subjected to the same warmth found to be most efficacious in rapid thawing, no beneficial effects resulted. They concluded that this would suggest rapid thawing is effective in part at least by diminishing the period during which the tissues are frozen and lack blood.

8:15—Evening Address, Bible in every day life.

Writing—Yesterday and Today

A beautiful flowering Spencerian hand used to be the mark of an educated person. Later, other types of handwriting came into favor. But emphasis continued to be put on learning to write attractively.

Times have changed, yet a lot of people haven't. Are you one of those parents, influenced by what your parents, grandparents and teachers said, who nags your youngster about his "terrible" handwriting? If so, here are a few things to think about.

The program follows:

2:00—Devotional Session by member of Greenwood Methodist church.

2:45—Bible in the Home, Rev. G. Edward Shaffer.

3:15—Music.

3:45—Work in the Church School, Miss Jean Snodgrass, director of religious education Second U.P. church, New Castle.

4:15—Business meeting, reports.

Police Chagrined

That Much Sought Criminal Got Away

DETROIT, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Michigan authorities and Cincinnati police were chagrined to learn today that Harry Fleisher, most sought after criminal in the nation, eluded capture in Ohio two weeks ago.

Cincinnati police termed the arrest and release of Detroit's notorious Purple gang member on Oct. 8 as "entirely justified under the circumstances".

Fleisher and Mike Selik last year jumped bonds totaling $80,000 to flee 20 to 40-year prison terms for the holdup of a Pontiac, Mich., gambling establishment. They were also convicted of conspiracy in the murder of Michigan State Sen. Warren G. Hooper.

Cincinnati detective chief Clem Mertz assumed full responsibility for releasing Fleisher after picking him up on suspicion at the home of Ruby Haas, whom they questioned on an auto theft charge. A woman, whom police believe is Fleisher's wife, also was questioned at the same time.

Mertz explained:

"We didn't have a thing on them. We had no record of fingerprints on Fleisher, but just on a hunch we mugged him."

The police officer said Fleisher and the woman were questioned, fingerprinted and released. He said Fleisher's identity was not known until the fingerprints were checked with the FBI in Washington.

The second man also was released, but police said they are convinced that he was not Selik, the other Michigan fugitive.

SPORTS SHORTS

Seven Lawrence county boys, headed by Captain Art Shaffer of Ellwood City, are on Westminster's soccer team this year.

Other county boys on the squad are: Red Garrett, New Wilmington; Bill Samuels, New Castle; Jack Skuba, New Castle; Norb Borowicz, Pulaski; Jim Elder, New Wilmington; and Sam Sloan, Jr., New Wilmington.

Three New Castle boys are on the Allegheny college soccer roster. They are: Tom Hares, Arnold Lewis and Phil Wellmarth. Hares and Lewis are sophomores and Wellmarth is a freshman.

The Clarion-California football game at California Saturday afternoon is one of the big games of the year in district football circles.

Clarion is all het up about its team this year, which has won four straight and is one of the four teams in the nation that has not had its goal line crossed.

Incidentally high score on this Clarion team is New Castle's Bill Walls with 42 points. Walls is also second in the Tri-State district in scoring.

California wasn't counted on to be much of a rival until last week when they dumped previously undefeated Slippery Rock, 6-0.

Sandlot football has gone over in a big way this season. Well over a thousand fans turned out last Sunday to see the regular double header.

Most of the lads playing are between the ages of 20 and 25. They have a good knowledge of football and really play for keeps.

The games to date have been low scoring, with a number of scoreless ties. However, all squads are planning regular practice sessions to develop an offense and the loop should feature more wide open football during the second half.

If you've been watching western Pennsylvania high school football scores this season, chances are you have noticed Windber in the winning column pretty often.

So far this year Windber, which is not in the WPIAL, has knocked off Aliquippa, Altoona and Johnstown, not to mention a few lesser teams. The defeat of Aliquippa is the only one that the Quips have suffered all season.

Just to show how the tables can turn in one year, Windber lost to a mediocre Aliquippa team 50 to 6 last season and turned around and knocked off one of the finest teams the Quips have had in years early this season.

Rumor has it that the reason Windber is not in the WPIAL this season is because of irregularities in their athletic program.

VILLANOVA VS DUQUESNE
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21—(INS)—The Villanova football squad arrived in Pittsburgh today for its game tomorrow with Duquesne at Forbes Field.

The game highlights the Dukes' homecoming celebration.

Undefeated Double A Teams In Biggest Test

It's the real blue chip contest tonight.

Har-Brack High school, undefeated in five stars, invades Taggart Stadium for the game of the year of both schools. Kick-off time is eight o'clock and a record crowd of over 15,000 is expected to attend.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh's Red Hurricane has six contests to its credit this season and have yet to taste defeat.

New Castle Underdogs

Eyes of sportfans of the entire Western Pennsylvania area, center of the best in high school football, are focused to Taggart Stadium from whence will emerge a favorite to cop the WPIAL AA title.

The defending champs find themselves in the unfamiliar role of underdogs or an even choice for this match of two entirely different types of ball clubs. All predictions put the score as low and not more than two touchdowns separating the teams. Injuries to Charles Manine and Tom Mangino, plus the large victory margins of the visiting Tigers give Har-Brack the edge in most cases.

The old and the new in coaches and formations will be on display tonight.

Coaches Highly Respected

Red Hurricane Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is in his 27th year as head man here and has turned in a remarkable percentage of over .800, using a powerful single wing formation. A strong forward wall with hard hitting backs is the key to the success of this type of football and bridgeway has an excellent record in developing both.

Neil Brown, 35-year-old head grid tutor at Harrison-Brackenridge consolidated schools, is a newcomer to the district ranks. He has served as head coach since 1943 and has earned the respect of all AA schools for the fine example of high class football teams that he has

Har-Brack Uses T

The visiting Green and White have the "T" formation, which has almost completely changed football since its rebirth 10 years ago. This type of football requires an exceptionally good ball handler at the quarterback spot with fast backs and quick charging linemen. According to all reports, Brown has these and is well prepared to run over and through the forward wall of the Red and Black.

New Castle had its final practice session under the lights last night at Taggart field. Earlier in the day the team had a skull drill at Senior high school.

Expect Record Crowd

New Castle's junior varsity had a double workout Thursday in another example of the extra measures taken to give New Castle a win tonight. In the afternoon the Jayvees had a drill on Har-Brack play, then ran them against the varsity under the arcs in a light defensive workout for the Seniors.

At the end of ticket sales on Thursday, there were still 500 reserved seats available for the game and 1400 general admission seats. If these are not sold by four o'clock today, they will be on sale at the stadium tonight. In addition, standing room tickets will be offered if necessary. Student tickets will be on sale at the gates as usual.

More than 2,000 Har-Brack followers are expected to make the New Castle journey. Bands of both schools will perform.

Franklin-Butler In Scoreless Tie

Ben Franklin Junior high football team got the first blemish on its 1949 record yesterday afternoon at Taggart Stadium by battling to a scoreless tie with Butler Junior high.

Coach George Massie's Patriots made all of their four first downs in a single drive in the second period. However time ran out with the ball on the Butler four and ended the only serious scoring threat of the game.

Never Threatened

Butler never got inside the Franklin 30.

Each squad had four first downs but the leadership in yardage gained goes to the local eleven.

Rowe recovered two Butler fumbles and teamed with Kovach to play a very good game on the line. O'Brien punting and the line bucking of Medure were also outstanding.

Next Saturday night, George Washington will be at Taggart Stadium to play Franklin in the bi-district on the schedule of both elevens.

Score by periods:

Bessemmer 14 0 7 0—21

Mercer 0 6 0 6—6

Touchdowns: Schaville 2 (placement); conversions: Schaville 2 (placement); Verlotti (pass).

LUCKY FANS

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 21.—(INS)

Sixty-nine lucky racing fans had plenty of that green stuff in their wallets today.

They held winning tickets on yesterday's daily double at Garden State Park. The payoff was $1,000 for $2.

Correct shooting hours for Saturday waterfowl for Saturday and next week are as follows:

Saturday, October 22—Start 6:07 a.m., close 4:30 p.m.

Monday, October 24—Start 6:10 a.m., close 4:26 p.m.

Tuesday, October 25—Start 6:11 a.m., close 4:26 p.m.

Wednesday, October 26—Start 6:12 a.m., close 4:25 p.m.

Thursday, October 27—Start 6:13 a.m., close 4:23 p.m.

Friday, October 28—Start 6:14 a.m., close 4:22 p.m.

Saturday, October 29—Start 6:15 a.m., close 4:21 p.m.

The foregoing hours were announced by Deputy Game Protector Lou Kelleher of the Linesville-Pymatuning district, according to Wilbur Patterson.

New Kensington has never defeated a New Castle High football team. The Hurricane has won all five contests between the schools.

Gavilan-Felton Meet In Detroit

DETROIT, Oct. 21.—(INS)—

Gavilan will be on the short end of 3-1 odds when he makes his big bid for the big time against Kid Gavilan in a 10-round bout tonight at Detroit's Olympia.

The young Detroit Negro has been pointing for this match two years, but the odds must favor the flashy, free-swinging Cuban who is the number one welterweight contender.

Gavilan Favored

Gavilan rates the long end of the odds chiefly because of his experience—experience that has seen him meet the best men in his class in seven years of fighting.

Felton, only 20, has been fighting three years. His best showing to date was a knockout over Jimmy Sherer of Milwaukee in Detroit several weeks ago.

Record Crowd To See New Castle—Har-Brack Clash Tonight

Union High Tramples Favored Hopewell 19-7

Union high school came back strong in the second half last night at Union high field to hand a rugged favored Hopewell team a 19-7 setback.

At intermission Hopewell had a 7-0 lead, by way of a pass from quarterback John Chickness to Eli Marovich that covered 27 yards midway in the first period.

Tomilson Scores On Fumble

Union took the kickoff in the second half and moved the ball down to the Hopewell 31 before the drive stalled. Hopewell took over and started a march down the field that halted abruptly on the 50-yard line when Carl Tomilson scooped up Anzur's fumble before it hit the ground and raced all the way to the goal line for a score.

Hedrick missed his drop-kick attempt for the extra point.

Minutes later Glen Hedrick intercepted a Hopewell pass on the Hopewell 45-yard line and raced all the way down the right side line for another score. Frank Presnar plunged for the extra point.

Hedrick Tallys

Union took his paydirt again in the final period when Hedrick went over from the nine on a pitch out from Ronnie Wolbrandt to the right, after a pass from Hedrick to John Young covered 21 yards.

Union's only scoring opportunity in the first half came when Glenn Hedrick broke through left tackle on the Union 27 and went 69 yards to the Hopewell 16 before he was brought down. The attack bogged down, however, and Hopewell took over on down on the 15.

Hopewell Threatens

Hopewell threatened in the final period when a pass from Chickness to Casey moved the ball 35 yards down to the Scotland Laners' 34. Four straight passes failed and Union took over.

The Beaver Valley boys came right back on another pass from Chickness to Casey that covered 31 yards and took the ball to the 27. Again Union's pass defense tightened up with Presnar intercepting a fourth down pass on the 31.

Defensively the entire Union team played great ball, with perhaps Phillips, Tomilson and Presnar doing the best job. No Hopewell back with the exception of quarterback John Chickness, could make any appreciable gains.

New York's biggest football attraction of the year will pit Notre Dame against North Carolina, November 27.

Minnesota Seeks Rose Bowl Bid In Game With Michigan

By HOWARD SIGMUND
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Rose Bowl-minded Minnesota attempts to place Michigan's neck on its football chopping block tomorrow in the nation's top college game of the week.

All signs point to the Wolverines suffering their third successive setback, but in a tradition-laden Big Ten struggle such as this one, anything is likely to happen.

Means Bowl Bid

Minnesota boasts a large, agile and violent line that's complemented by good passing and speedy backs. A victory would virtually sew up a Pasadena New Year's invitation for Bernie Bierman's men.

They'll be playing for the coveted "Little Brown Jug," and once-mighty Michigan has held the jug for the past six years.

Two big games in the east pit Princeton against undefeated Cornell, and injury-riddled Navy against Penn.

Unbeaten North Carolina and Charley Justice meet up with up-and-down Louisiana State in the Deep South's biggie.

Rice Vs. Texas

In the Southwest, the eyes of Texas will be on the struggle between Rice and Texas, SMU, upended by Rice last week, has another toughie in Kentucky. The Colonels sport a 5-0 record against conference foes and this should be a test for them.

Power-packed Oklahoma is expected to have little trouble with Nebraska in their Big Seven engagement.

The West Coast offers a good game between Oregon and deflated Southern California.

Washington has dropped four straight and there's very little reason to believe that California won't help make it five.

Notre Dame Idle

Notre Dame definitely will not extend its 32-game unbeaten skein this week. The Irish, considered by most observers to be the No. 1 team in the nation, have the day off.

Army, another highly-rated powerhouse, is figured to have an easy time with inexperienced Columbia.

Other games:

GROVERS-GATORS CLASH SATURDAY

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 21.—After a week of hard practice sessions, the Crimson football team is ready to travel to Allegheny Saturday for its hardest test of the season. Allegheny, who is undefeated this season, will be out to beat Grove City for the first time since 1937. The score of that game, during the first year of Coach Loveless' reign at Grove City college, was 3-0.

The Grovers will be at full strength with one possible exception. Defensive guard, Gus Erickson, 215-pound from Jamestown, N. Y., has been laid up with a bruised leg. The rest of the first team are fit and ready.

Hunters Start Prowl Next Week

By CARL A. ROGAN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—The lid will be off in little more than a week, when the 1949 upland game season opens in Pennsylvania.

Some 5000 licensed hunters will be out for bobwhite quail, Hungarian partridges, ruffed grouse, wild turkey, ring-neck pheasants, rabbits, squirrels and raccoons.

Game officials expect an increase in the number of hunting licenses this year, too, as well as in the small game kill.

License Increase

Under a new law, resident hunters pay $3.15 and non-resident $20 for a license to hunt both small and big game in Pennsylvania this year. Previously the resident license was $2, and the non-resident $15.

Meanwhile, commission agents reported game populations haven't been so high since before the war, when wildlife was more numerous than it is now. Nimrod first noted the upswing last year and this year reportedly is even better.

Particularly gratifying is the pheasant increase. Birds are said to be reasonably plentiful in areas where they were scarce from 1941-1945, when the entire nation suffered the decline. Artificial propagation of this game bird by the Pennsylvania Game Commission, sportsmen's clubs, and individual sportsmen also helped bring the bird back on the game list.

The Grovers will be at full strength with one possible exception. Defensive guard, Gus Erickson, 215-pound from Jamestown, N. Y., has been laid up with a bruised leg. The rest of the first team are fit and ready.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

YOUTHS who are keen for outdoors life, and whom were sent by various county sports organizations to the Conservation school at Penn State college, several months ago, will relate their experiences tonight at the Shenango Valley Beagle clubhouse, near Volant, when the Lawrence County Council of sportsmen will be guests of the Beagles... Wampum-Ellwood City Rod & Gun club will traphunt Saturday afternoon at their club grounds... Duck hunting will be under way today... Jack Diamond, Frank Barr and Art Dennis have been appointed a Lawrence County Sportsman's association nominating committee for 1950. They will present the names of nominees at the November meeting, and the election will occur at the December meeting... Talking about theistic renoun of past and present local boxers, the former knights of the ring, by far, excelled present performers. For instance, Tony Ross boxed Champion Jack Johnson, Tom McMahon boxed Jess Willard prior to Willard's defeat of Johnson, and Dan Dailey also fought Willard. Dan Sweeney, who often substituted for local heavyweights, held the distinction of being the last opponent to face former Champion Bob Fitzsimmons, the bout having been held at Williamsport. George Chip was the middleweight champion and Patsy Brannigan boxed Johnny Kilbane, Kid Williams and other champions. Battling Terry milled with Charlie White, Packy McFarland and Johnny Kilbane, while Tommy Jones boxed Jimmy Duffy. Babe Picato milled with K. O. Cheney, Jimmy Dunn boxed Abe Attel, Freddy Welsh and Harlem Tommy Murphy while Joe Chip battled Al McCoy and Johnny Wilson.

Answers: Antlerless deer season is for December 10, only, limit one... New Kensington and Ne-Ca-Hi have played five times in 1914, 1932, 1933, 1934 and 1935.

Wild Waterfowl Season Opens

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21.—(INS)—The wild waterfowl season opened at noon today.

The Pennsylvania Game commission reminded hunters they must have a state license plus the federal migratory waterfowl stamp costing $2. They can be bought at any post office.

The 40-day season is open each day from half hour before sunrise to an hour before sunset.

Canadian agents reported the first major duck flights from the north have started and should fly over Pennsylvania in large numbers.

Meanwhile, commission agents reported game populations haven't been so high since before the war, when wildlife was more numerous than it is now. Nimrod first noted the upswing last year and this year reportedly is even better.

Particularly gratifying is the pheasant increase. Birds are said to be reasonably plentiful in areas where they were scarce from 1941-1945, when the entire nation suffered the decline. ## STOCK MARKET FLUCTUATES SOME

Small Gains Are Made By Some Of Pivotal Stocks During Morning

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(INS)—The stock market fluctuated irregularly within a fractional trading range in early dealings today. Despite the more hopeful tone of steel mediation talks, Wall street traders pursued a cautious buying course.

Pivotal industrial leaders to chalk up small gains included Chrysler up  $\frac{1}{4}$  at 53 $\frac{1}{2}$ ; Standard Oil of New Jersey up  $\frac{1}{4}$  at 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ ; and DuPont up  $\frac{1}{4}$  at 54 $\frac{1}{2}$ . General Motors was unchanged at 65 $\frac{1}{2}$ , while U. S. Steel was off  $\frac{1}{4}$  at 24 $\frac{1}{2}$ .

The bond market showed a mixed tone in relatively quiet trading. Commodities were slightly easier.

National Officer
Of Girl Scouts
Will Speak Here

OLED A SCHROTTKY
Miss Oleda Schrottky, dramatic consultant of the National Girl Scout organization, will be the keynote speaker at the leadership conference to be held at the Cathedral, Saturday, October 22.

Girl Scout leaders from 13 Western Pennsylvania counties will participate in the all-day session, designed to foster better Girl Scout leadership in this area.

A well-known speaker on youth needs, particularly in respect to recreation, Miss Schrottky spends most of her time addressing men's and women's clubs and community organizations throughout the country in the interests of Girl Scouts and all young people. In the spring of 1949, on a special two-month trip to Hawaii, she spoke before various service and civic groups, teachers' associations, and so on, on five islands; conducted a round table on education in dramatics for children; and visited Kalau-papa, the Hawaiian leper colony, where the Girl Scout recreational program has been adapted to the needs of children afflicted with the disease.

Miss Schrottky has planned and produced many of the colorful pageants and ceremonies associated with Girl Scouting during her long affiliation with the organization.

Her varied career has included acting and teaching as well. She appeared with the Provincetown Players in such productions as Susanna Glaspell's "Inheritors," starring Anna Harding, and with the Henry Jewett Players of Boston in "John Regan." For a number of years she was a speech teacher at Mount Holyoke College and also produced many plays for freshmen.

New 'Smog' Probe Set For Donora

Nine-Man Team Of Federal Experts Being Sent To Donora By Government

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing today ordered a nine-man team of federal experts to Donora, Pa., to investigate another "smog" in the industrial city.

The government recently completed a year-long study of a smog in Donora in October, 1948, which resulted in the death of 20 persons and made 6,000 ill.

Ewing emphasized that no danger to Donora residents is considered likely because of the new smog although weather bureau officials have predicted that it will remain for several days.

He pointed out that most of the major industries in western Pennsylvania are shut down because of the steel strike and this makes it improbable that fair contamination will reach the proportions of the 1948 smog.

Ewing said the new smog offers "a rare opportunity" for federal experts to gather basic information on how air pollution builds up during a smog where there is no major industrial contamination.

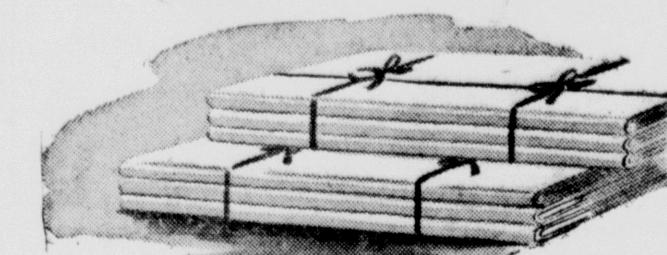

The group being sent to Donora consists of government engineers and weather experts who made previous studies in the area.

SWING LOBBY TO BE TONIGHT

Swing Lobby will be held as usual tonight from 8 to 12 o'clock, midnight, in the city building. Mrs. Frank Gribbin, supervisor, stated.

Frank Zak and his orchestra will provide the dancing melodies to accommodate those attending the football game.
